

Dear reader

I hope that you are well. It is my hope that after you read this letter you'll be compelled to grab a pen and paper to get something done.

Writing has been human's mean to communicate to distant people, whether they are distant in time or distant in space.

There was a time when the post office was not used mainly to deliver our online purchases. The post office delivered handwritten letters in envelopes with beautifully written addresses. People were excited to check their mailboxes unlike today when they worry about being summoned for jury duty.

I don't know about you, but the last time I checked the declaration of independence was written by hand, and so was later getting a typed thank you note.

But what exactly do you lose by ditching the pen and paper? I'd argue the biggest thing you lose is personality. Computer fonts look like some on every paper, and frankly, it's boring to look at. Handwriting adds another dimension to your work.
