A WAAF in Bomber Command Pip Beck,1989 A sensitively written true story by a RAF Bomber Command wartime R T operator who talked down the crews on their return from operations met them off duty and so often mourned their loss within days The book sparkles with anecdotes and humor yet has a very special poignancy as the author reiterates her deep admiration for these truly remarkable men of Bomber Command

Tales of a Bomber Command Waaf Sylvia Pickering,2002-01-01

The Flyer Martin Francis,2011-05-19 Between 1939 and 1945 the British public was spellbound by the martial endeavours and dashing style of the young men of the RAF especially those with silvery fabric wings sewn above the breast pocket of their glamorous slate blue uniform Martin Francis provides the first scholarly study of the place of the flyer in British culture during the Second World War Examining the lives of RAF personnel and their popular representation in literary and cinematic texts he illuminates broader issues of gender social class national and racial identities emotional life and the creation of a national myth in twentieth century Britain In particular Francis argues that the flyer s relationship to fear aggression loss of his comrades bodily dismemberment and psychological breakdown reveals broader ambiguities surrounding the dominant understandings of masculinity in the middle decades of the century Despite his star appeal cultural representations of the flyer encompassed both the gentle chivalrous warrior and the uncompromising agent of destruction Paying particular attention to the romantic universe of wartime aircrew Francis reveals the extraordinary contrasts of their daily lives dicing with death in the sky one moment before sitting down to lunch with wives and children in the next Male and female experiences during the war were not polarized and antithetical but were complementary and interrelated a conclusion which has implications for the history of gender in modern Britain that reach well beyond either the specialized military culture of the wartime RAF or the chronological parameters of the Second World War

Mosquito Night Intruder Ace Danny Burt,2023-04-20 Bertie Rex O Bryen Hoare was born on 6 June 1912 Having been educated at Harrow and Wye Agricultural College Sammy as he was often known to friends and family entered the RAF on a short service commission in 1936 In October 1938 while piloting a Fairy Battle Bertie sustained a serious injury from a piece of loose piece of aircraft cowling This incident resulted in him being totally blinded in one eye Though he was initially grounded his determination to return to the air never diminished The outbreak of war in September 1939 saw his wish be granted when Bertie was given permission to return to operational flying duties Bertie was posted to 23 Squadron which was flying Blenheims at the time The squadron then converted to Havocs the crews being tasked with undertaking out nighttime operations over Occupied Europe Despite his restricted night vision and depth perception Bertie went on to become one of the RAF's leading advocates in the art of what was known as intruder operations. In the months and years that followed Bertie served in and then commanded a number of RAF squadrons. By the time the war in Europe came to an end he was the Station Commander at RAF Little Snoring in Norfolk which at the time was home to de Havilland Mosquitos undertaking intruder operations. Bertie opted to remain in the RAF after the war, this time being posted to 84 Squadron. However, his luck finally ran out on 26 March 1947 when the Mosquito he was ferrying to Australia crashed off its northern coast. Reported missing at the time, Danny Burt reveals the full circumstances of this tragic incident. This is the biography of one of the RAF's greatest characters of the Second World War. With his epic over-sized mustache, Bertie Hoare was a pilot who, with the end of the fighting, had risen to the rank of Group Captain, been awarded the Distinguished Service Order and Bar, the Distinguished Flying Cross and Bar, and been mentioned in despatches. Bertie ended the war having flown over 100 combat sorties.

More Tales of a Bomber Command WAAF and Her Horse Sylvia Pickering, 2003. Hell Hath No Fury Rosalind Miles, Robin Cross, 2008-02-26. An engaging collection that uncovers injustices in history and overturns misconceptions about the role of women in war. When you think of war, you think of men, right? Not so fast. In Hell Hath No Fury, Rosalind Miles and Robin Cross prove that although many of their stories have been erased or forgotten, women have played an integral role in wars throughout history. In witty and compelling biographical essays, categorized and alphabetized for easy reference, Miles and Cross introduce us to war leaders Cleopatra, Elizabeth I, Margaret Thatcher, combatants Molly Pitcher, Lily Litvak, Tammy Duckworth, spies Belle Boyd, Virginia Hall, Noor Inayat Khan, reporters and propagandists Martha Gellhorn, Tokyo Rose, Anna Politkovskaya, and more. These are women who have taken action and who challenge our perceived notions of womanhood. Some will be familiar to readers, but most will not, though their deeds during wartime were every bit as important as their male contemporaries. More heralded contributions: The Aeroplane Directory of British Aviation, 1949. The Aeroplane, 1949-07. The Aeroplane and Commercial Aviation News, 1950. Flight and Aircraft Engineer, 1958. Who's who in British Aviation, 1956. ABC of the RAF Sir John Alexander Hammerton, 1942. Royal Air Force Quarterly and Commonwealth Air Forces Journal ,1944 Meteorology and World War II Brian D. Giles,1989 No. 7 Bomber Squadron RAF in World War II Tom Docherty,2007 This is the story of one of the RAF s oldest and most distinguished heavy bomber squadrons in WW2 although an outline history of the unit since it was formed in WW1 and its post war history are included It was the first operational Stirling Squadron the RAF s first four engine heavy bomber and flew the first long distance raids into the heart of Nazi Germany This new aircraft was a break through in terms of range and bomb load but it was also an aircraft that suffered from many teething problems Long distance navigation was also a black art before the introduction of radio navigation systems and the squadron suffered many fatalities in those early wartime years Having gained expertise in their task the unit was the first to be equipped with the H2S navigational aid and eventually became one of the original elite Pathfinder squadrons When the Lancaster came into service the Squadron re equipped and joined 8 Group and had the dubious reputation of suffering the third greatest loss of aircraft in Bomber Command It did however participate in more Lancaster raids than any other 8 Group squadron Women at War Margaret Leland Goldsmith,1943

The WAAF at War John Frayn Turner,2011-12-01 Highly experienced author John Frayn Turner has succeeded in capturing the indomitable spirit of the WAAF during WW2 His book vividly describes the many roles played by members of this highly respected organization whether on the ground at air stations under the ground in control bunkers reading radar monitors or plotting the course of air operations In addition the WAAF flew all types of aircraft often with minimal training regardless of weather Most poignant are the hazardous exploits of those WAAF who volunteered for SOE Perhaps the best known of these incredibly gallant girls is Noor Inayat Khan GC who was executed at Dachau in 1944 but there were many others whose stories are told here The WAAF at War is a long overdue tribute to the war winning contribution played by all its members
