Adapting to climate change Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Environmental Audit Committee, 2010-03-25 Climate projections show that Britain can expect wetter winters drier summers and a higher likelihood of flash floods heat waves and droughts Yet adaptation to climate change has been given only a fraction of the attention that has gone into reducing greenhouse gases The Government must build awareness and support for the wide ranging and urgent programme of action that is needed to protect people property and prosperity and safeguard the natural environment Adapting infrastructure and homes will be expensive To maintain current levels of flood protection for homes real terms spending on flood defences will need to increase from its current level of around 600 million per annum to around 1 billion in 2035 Estimates in 2009 suggest that by the end of the century around 7 billion may be needed to improve the Thames flood barrier and tidal defences New homes being built now must be designed to cope with the inevitable changes in climate over the next 50 80 years The Government must make adaptation and mitigation more central to the planning system New developments should only be permitted if they are suited to future climates Existing homes will also need to be adapted so that they are comfortable during hotter summers and better protected against the risk of flooding The Government must help to kick start an integrated retro fitting programme that covers adaptation water efficiency and energy efficiency Green infrastructure such as water storage greater tree cover and more open green spaces must also be promoted Transactions of the Commonwealth Club of California Commonwealth Club of California,1927 The Commonwealth ,1927 47 Things You Can Do for the Environment Jill Buck,Lexi Petronis,2019-08-01 Sure we all know the planet is in trouble We hear talk all the time about climate change air pollution from cars oil spills into oceans trash overflowing into waterways and toxic chemicals leaking into our groundwater Sigh But the good news is there s a lot we can do to start cleaning up the Earth And it starts with you Address to the Public ,1913 Biosphere 2000 Donald G.
