(Ages Two to Three)

Understanding language, also known as 'receptive language', is the ability to understand spoken language and respond to it appropriately. This involves the understanding of words, sentences and questions.

Between the ages of two and three years old, toddlers may:

follow and remember a simple short story with pictures understand and answer simple 'who', 'what' and 'where' questions develop simple language understand simple instructions and follow basic instructions such as 'go over and get that' play a simple board game begin to make a simple sentence and use simple words in sentences, such as 'milk is good' or 'I like to eat it'

These are the expected outcomes for children aged two to three years old. Children may not achieve all of these outcomes at the same time and may not achieve them in the order listed.
