Situated Language And Learning:

Situated Language and Learning James Paul Gee, 2004 Why do poor and minority students under perform in school Do computer games help or hinder learning What can new research in psychology teach our educational policy makers In this major new book Gee tackles the big ideas about language literacy and learning putting forward an integrated theory that crosses disciplinary boundaries and applying it to some of the very real problems that face educationalists today Situated Language and Learning looks at the specialist academic varieties of language that are used in disciplines such as mathematics and the sciences It argues that the language acquisition process needed to learn these forms of language is not given enough attention by schools and that this places unfair demands on poor and minority students The book compares this with learning as a process outside the classroom applying this idea to computer and video games and exploring the particular processes of learning which take place as a child interacts with others and technology to learn and play In doing so Gee examines what video games can teach us about how to improve learning in schools and engages with current debates on subjects such as communities of practice and digital literacies Bringing together the latest research from a number of disciplines Situated Language and Learning is a bold and controversial book by a leading figure in the field and is essential reading for anyone interested in education and language

Situated Language Learning Mahmoud M. S. Abdallah, 2015 Currently there is a shift in language learning from the acquisition metaphor to the participation metaphor This involves viewing learners as active constructors of knowledge who can collaborate together to create meaningful language learning situations and contextualised practices Thus this worksheet aims at exploring the concept of Situated Language Learning by shedding some light on its significance and importance for many language learning purposes and also the forms that it might take represented in the approaches and learning scenarios which are consistent with situated language learning as an umbrella term These forms include Community Based Language Learning e g Community Of Practice and Online Language Learning Communities Authentic Language Learning Pedagogy Task Based Language Learning Virtual Language Learning VLL and Cognitive Apprenticeship Models

Sociocultural Theory and Language Learning as Performance John R. Haught, 2018-11-19 The author leads us on a journey of his years teaching additional languages through the use of performing arts Drama theater games music and other performance activities promote language use in authentic and engaging ways that differ from typical classroom activities and allow the language learners to have fun as they solve challenges in the target language Drawing on the work of Lev Vygotsky and Sociocultural Theory he demonstrates how learning is social and how learners create their knowledge by working with each other Drama and creative arts are a powerful means for teaching and learning language because of the emotional support and encouragement it entails He shows how performing arts engage learners intellectually physically and emotionally while offering supports and scaffolds that lead to powerful learning outcomes He has effectively used these techniques with children and adults both at home and abroad in many different cultures and settings and argues that anyone can use these learning strategies to augment their teaching Interactive Task Learning Kevin A. Gluck, John E. Laird, 2019-08-16 Experts from a range of disciplines explore how humans and artificial agents can quickly learn completely new tasks through natural interactions with each other Humans are not limited to a fixed set of innate or preprogrammed tasks We learn quickly through language and other forms of natural interaction and we improve our performance and teach others what we have learned Understanding the mechanisms that underlie the acquisition of new tasks through natural interaction is an ongoing challenge Advances in artificial intelligence cognitive science and robotics are leading us to future systems with human like capabilities A huge gap exists however between the highly specialized niche capabilities of current machine learning systems and the generality flexibility and in situ robustness of human instruction and learning Drawing on expertise from multiple disciplines this Str ngmann Forum Report explores how humans and artificial agents can quickly learn completely new tasks through natural interactions with each other The contributors consider functional knowledge requirements the ontology of interactive task learning and the representation of task knowledge at multiple levels of abstraction They explore natural forms of interactions among humans as well as the use of interaction to teach robots and software agents new tasks in complex dynamic environments They discuss research challenges and opportunities including ethical considerations and make proposals to further understanding of interactive task learning and create new capabilities in assistive robotics healthcare education training and gaming Contributors Tony Belpaeme Katrien Beuls Maya Cakmak Joyce Y Chai Franklin Chang Ropafadzo Denga Marc Destefano Mark d Inverno Kenneth D Forbus Simon Garrod Kevin A Gluck Wayne D Gray James Kirk Kenneth R Koedinger Parisa Kordjamshidi John E Laird Christian Lebiere Stephen C Levinson Elena Lieven John K Lindstedt Aaron Mininger Tom Mitchell Shiwali Mohan Ana Paiva Katerina Pastra Peter Pirolli Roussell Rahman Charles Rich Katharina J Rohlfing Paul S Rosenbloom Nele Russwinkel Dario D Salvucci Matthew Donald D Sangster Matthias Scheutz Julie A Shah Candace L Sidner Catherine Sibert Michael Spranger Luc Steels Suzanne Stevenson Terrence C Stewart Arthur Still Andrea Stocco Niels Taatgen Andrea L Thomaz J Gregory Trafton Han L J van der Maas Paul Van Eecke Kurt VanLehn Anna Lisa Vollmer Janet Wiles Robert E Wray III Matthew Yee King Cutting-Edge Topics and Approaches in Education and Applied Linguistics Abdullah Ince, 2018-12-14 In recent decades learning another language and educating people with appropriate skills that address the requirements of the modern world have become significant issues Today around two billion people learn and use English to some extent and this number is expected to rise In the same vein recent rapid technological advancements have made it mandatory to adjust the education system to fit the requirements of
