Trials Of Angela:

The Trials of Angela Millie Criswell, 2002 Angela DeNero's life is a mess. She's just broken up with her cheating fiancé, her law practice is gasping for air, and her parents are planning to move back to Baltimore. To make matters worse, Angela finds she has to argue her biggest case against arrogant John Franco, a man she believes would send his own grandmother to jail. Instead, he sends Angela's heart soaring. May The Morning Breaks Bettina Aptheker, 1999-04 On August 7, 1970, a revolt by Black prisoners in a Marin County courthouse stunned the nation. In its aftermath, Angela Davis, an African American activist scholar who had campaigned vigorously for prisoners' rights, was placed on the FBI's ten most wanted list. Captured in New York City two months later, she was charged with murder, kidnapping, and conspiracy. Her trial, chronicled in this compelling tale, Publishers Weekly brought strong public indictment. The Morning Breaks is a riveting firsthand account of Davis's ordeal and her ultimate triumph, written by an activist in the student civil rights and antiwar movements who was intimately involved in the struggle for her release. First published in 1975 and praised by The Nation for its graphic narrative of Davis's legal and public fight, The Morning Breaks remains relevant today as the nation contends with the political fallout of the Sixties and the grim consequences of institutional racism. For this edition, Bettina Aptheker has provided an introduction that revisits crucial events of the late 1960s and early 1970s and puts Davis's case into the context of that time and our own, from the killings at Kent State and Jackson State to the politics of the prison system today. This book gives a firsthand account of the worldwide movement for Angela Davis's freedom and of her trial. It offers a unique historical perspective on the case and its continuing significance in the contemporary political landscape. Justice in the Round Reginald Major, 1973 The author who covered the trial for the San Francisco Sun Reporter provides an eyewitness account of the kidnapping, murder, and conspiracy trial of Angela Davis, tracing the relationship of the trial to the movement for Black liberation.

Math on Trial Leila Schneps, Coralie Colmez, 2013-03-12 In the wrong hands, math can be deadly. Even the simplest numbers can become powerful forces when manipulated by politicians or the media, but in the case of the law, your liberty and your life can depend on the right calculation. In Math on Trial, mathematicians Leila Schneps and Coralie Colmez describe ten trials spanning from the nineteenth century to today in which mathematical arguments were used and disastrously misused as evidence. They tell the stories of Sally Clark, who was accused of murdering her children by a doctor with a faulty sense of calculation; of nineteenth-century tycoon Hetty Green, whose dispute over her aunt's will became a signal case in the forensic use of mathematics; and of the case of Amanda Knox, in which a judge's misunderstanding of probability led him to discount critical evidence which might have kept her in jail. Offering a fresh angle on cases from the nineteenth century Dreyfus affair to the murder trial of Dutch nurse Lucia de Berk, Schneps and Colmez show how the improper application of mathematical concepts can mean the difference between walking free and life in prison. A colorful narrative of mathematical abuse, Math on Trial blends courtroom drama, history, and math to show that legal expertise isn't t
