The Tan Chanteuse:

The Tan Chanteuse Carole Boston Weatherford, 1995-10      Somebody's Knocking at Your Door Harold G Koenig, Carole B Weatherford, Ronald J Weatherford, 2013-10-08

Examining the black church's response to AIDS. Somebody's Knocking at Your Door AIDS and the African American Church analyzes sexual ethics and homophobia in the black church to provide pastors, social workers, and health professionals with intervention strategies for parishioners or members of the community who have AIDS. By discussing the church's historic and successful activism and its relationship to the community along with AIDS statistics, relevant theologies, and other AIDS ministries, this book suggests the benefits of increased church involvement versus other agencies or organizations. Somebody's Knocking at Your Door will help you develop prevention education and pastoral care programs that will alert individuals to the risks of AIDS and will offer people with AIDS the comfort and assistance they need in coping with the disease. Through the voices of leading clergy, AIDS advocates, and people living with AIDS, PLWAs, this book calls on the African American church to become more involved in helping communities deal with the disease. Somebody's Knocking at Your Door offers you ideas on how to improve the lives of individuals with AIDS through the church, including welcoming PLWAs into the church through announcements by local media, church newsletters, and Sunday bulletins; offering AIDS support groups at the church or loaning office space, equipment, or clerical assistance to AIDS organizations; recognizing the power of intercessory prayer for PLWAs; caring for PLWAs by delivering meals to their homes, preparing meals at the church, and developing a transportation network that will take parishioners to doctor appointments, church, or on recreational outings; preparing meals, running errands, housekeeping, handling paperwork, negotiating legal issues, and offering friendship; possible components of volunteer buddy programs for homebound PLWAs; training pastors, clergy, and Sunday school teachers to educate ministries on AIDS in the African American community; sexual intimacy, intravenous drug use, and needle sharing; monogamy, community resources, and condom use. Since some clergy still believe that AIDS is a gay disease, Somebody's Knocking at Your Door discusses the issue of homosexuality within the church. By analyzing passages from the Bible, the authors refute the belief that homosexuals were neglected by God and undeserving of care and love. This belief, according to the authors, inhibits some churches and individuals from discussing HIV/AIDS because of fear they would also be acknowledging homosexuality. Highlighting AIDS ministries throughout the United States, Somebody's Knocking at Your Door encourages the African American church to confront the issue of AIDS and understand that the disease can affect anyone. This book will give you the necessary strategies for starting and implementing AIDS ministries and intervention programs that will educate and support your community.

Beyond the Frontier E. Ethelbert Miller, 2002 This anthology begins with the memory of landscapes and landmarks, presenting poems in the For My People tradition of Margaret Walker. It includes a section titled Blood and Disappointment in the Land, which documents ongoing social struggles. Other poems focus on the love that is essential for survival, rebirth, and dreams. More than 100 prominent

African American poets contribute including the distinguished and award winning poets Toi Derricotte Sam Cornish Jabari Asim and Pinkie Gordon Lane

East Indian Music in the West Indies Peter Lamarche Manuel, Trinidadian sitarist composer and music authority Mangal Patasar once remarked and tan singing You take a capsule from India leave it here for a hundred years and this is what you get Patasar was referring to what may be the most sophisticated and distinctive art form cultivated among the one and a half million East Indians whose ancestors migrated as indentured laborers from colonial India to the West Indies between 1845 and 1917 Known in Trinidad and Guyana as tan singing or local classical music and in Suriname as baithak gana sitting music tan singing has evolved in to a unique idiom embodying the rich poetic and musical heritage brought from India as modified by a diaspora group largely cut off from its ancestral homeland In recent decades however tan singing has been declining regarded as quaint and crude by younger generations raised on MTV Hindi film music and disco At the same time Indo Caribbeans have been participating in their countries economic political and cultural lives to a far greater extent than previously Accompanying this participation has been a lively cultural revival encompassing both an enhanced assertion of Indianness and a spirit of innovative syncretism One of the most well known products of this process is chutney a dynamic music and dance phenomenon that is simultaneously a folk revival and a pop hybrid In Trinidad it has also been the vehicle for a controversial form of female empowerment and an agent of a new more inclusive conception of national identity Thus East Indian Music in the West Indies is a portrait of a diaspora community in motion It documents the social and cultural development of a people without history a people who have sometimes been dismissed as foreigners who merely perpetuate the culture of the homeland rather than becoming truly Caribbean Professor Manuel shows how inaccurate this characterization is On the one hand in the form of tan singing it examines the distinctiveness of traditional Indo Caribbean musical culture On the other in the form of chutney it examines the new assertiveness and syncretism of Indo Caribbean popular music Students of Indo Caribbean music and curious world music fans alike will be fascinated by Professor Manuel s guided tour through the complex and exciting world of Indo Caribbean musical culture
