Transformations In Personhood:

Transformations in Personhood and Culture After Theory Christie McDonald, Gary Wihl, 1994 These essays define transformation by blending the familiar with the conflicted and plural Transformation refers to the shifting ground in our present culture between the familiar and the unfamiliar These essays are viewed as examples of new intellectual genres rather than theories If they do belong to a post theoretical intellectual genre of writing it is because they blend philosophical vocabularies with expressions of curiosity novelty and plurality

Rebirthing Elise Carr, 2014 This thesis explores the nature of personhood embodiment and emotion based on twelve months fieldwork within a breathwork rebirthing community in 2008 2009 The fieldwork included a nine month rebirthing training program that is the primary focus of this thesis Rebirthing a breathing technique reputed to release repressed material and stress from the body emerged from California in the 1970s as a modality of the New Age The six participants of this rebirthing training consistently expressed a desire to re examine their lives and viewed the training as an opportunity to redefine themselves They saw the rebirthing training as an opportunity to develop a deepened sense of agency which would facilitate transformations of relationships with themselves and others The subjective nature of this transformation relies on a particular understanding of personhood in rebirthing discourse one that is self aware reflexive and flexible and thus amenable to this process of change Employing a narrative perspective I examine the transformative journeys of these six participants as they undertake to challenge their own self perceptions values and beliefs as they expose and unravel their life histories Central to this thesis are two questions How does the practice of rebirthing impact on notions of personhood and what role do embodiment and emotion play in the construction and reconstruction of the model of personhood central to rebirthing practice The practice of rebirthing is situated within a set of assumptions and presuppositions about the nature of personhood the mind and body spirituality life and death Rebirthing is specifically embedded in the precepts of thought is creative the self as a spiritual being and holistic health Based on a body constructed of energy an energy that is cosmologically universal personhood in this context is understood to be both individual and relational autonomous yet porous This concept of an energetic body renders embodiment and emotion mutually constitutive The specific breathing technique of rebirthing is seen as the key tool for accessing somatic and emotional information from the body Through the rebirthing process the individual is understood to be capable of recalling and reconstructing their past transforming beliefs and values that enable them to move into the future with a greater sense of agency The rebirthing training program is constructed to follow the life course sequentially from conception and birth to death My research illustrates the subjective and individualised nature of the transformative process of the rebirthing training program Each chapter explores the unfolding of individual stories experiences and understanding of the nature of personhood within the rebirthing context These chapters chart the gradual transformation of personhood that takes place through the participants embodied and emotional experiences of the rebirthing training I argue that by interrogating how personhood is formulated and transformed in the specific cultural setting of a rebirthing training we gain a highly nuanced and deeply intimate insight into how people actively shape and participate in their social world

Transformation After Lausanne Al Tizon, 2008 Lausanne 74 inspired evangelicals around the world to take seriously the full implications of the Gospel for mission This was especially true of a worldwide network of radical evangelical mission theologians and practitioners whose post Lausanne reflections found harbour in the notion of Mission as Transformation This missiology integrated evangelism and social concern like no other and it lifted up theological voices coming from the Two Thirds World to places of prominence This book documents the definitive gatherings theological tensions and social forces within and without evangelicalism that led up to Mission as Transformation And it does so through a global local grid that points the way toward greater holistic mission in the 21st century BOOK JACKET The Lowland South American World Casey High, Luiz Costa, 2024-12-12 The Lowland South American World showcases cutting edge research on the anthropology of Lowland South America providing both an in depth knowledge of Lowland South American life ways and engaging readers in urgent social environmental and political issues in the contemporary world Covering the vast expanse of a region that includes all of South America except for the Andes its 40 chapters engage with questions of what Lowland South America means as a geographical designation both in studies of Indigenous Amazonian peoples and other lowland areas of the continent They emphasize the multiple ways that local practices and cosmologies challenge conventional Western ideas about nature culture personhood sociality community and Indigenous people Some of the region s well known contributions to anthropology such as animism perspectivism and novel approaches to the body are updated here with new ethnography and in light of the varying political situations in which the region s peoples find themselves With contributions by authors from 15 different countries including a number of Indigenous anthropologists and activists this book will set the agenda for future research in the continent The Lowland South American World is a valuable resource for scholars and students of anthropology Latin American studies and Indigenous studies as well as history geography and other social sciences New Literature on Women , 1995 Plants as Persons Matthew Hall, 2011-05-06 Challenges readers to reconsider the moral standing of plants Becoming a Pastor: Jaco J. Hamman, 2014-05-15 Revised and updated edition of a best selling leadership and ministry guide Whether you re a pastor or church leader says Hamman you re called to do the following for yourself develop a deeper sense of inner security nurture your imagination embrace your dark side become aware of your emotions see others as they really are and engage in life with a sense of playfulness Hamman equips you to do all of this and more Get ready for a transformation in your personal ministry and in your relationship with God and become the best pastor you can be Urban Imaginaries in Native Amazonia Fernando Santos-Granero, Emanuele Fabiano, 2023-06-27 Urban life has long intrigued Indigenous Amazonians who regard cities as the locus of both extraordinary power and danger Modern and ancient cities alike have thus become models for the representation of extreme alterity under the guise of supernatural

enchanted cities This volume seeks to analyze how these ambiguous urban imaginaries complex representations that function as cognitive tools and blueprints for social action express a singular view of cosmopolitical relations how they inform and shape forest city interactions and the history of how they came into existence Featuring analysis from historical ethnological and philosophical perspectives contributors seek to explain the imaginaries widespread diffusion as well as their influence in present day migration and urbanization Above all it underscores how these urban imaginaries allow Indigenous Amazonians to express their concerns about power alterity domination and defiance Contributors Natalia Buitron Philippe Erikson Emanuele Fabiano Fabiana Maizza Daniela Peluso Fernando Santos Granero Pirjo Kristiina Virtanen Robin M Wright

Currencies of Imagination Ivan V. Small, 2019-01-15 In Vietnam international remittances from the Vietnamese diaspora are quantitatively significant and contribute important economic inputs Yet beyond capital transfer these diasporic remittance economies offer insight into an unfolding transformation of Vietnamese society through the extension of imaginations and ontological possibilities that accompany them Currencies of Imagination examines the complex role of remittances as money and as gifts that flow across and mediate between transnational kinship networks dispersed by exile and migration Long distance international gift exchanges and channels in a neoliberal political economy juxtapose the increasing cross border mobility of remittance financial flows against the relative confines of state bounded bodies In this contradiction Ivan V Small reveals a creative space for emergent imaginaries that disrupt local structures and scales of desire labor and expectation Furthermore the particular characteristics of remittance channels and mediums in a global economy including transnational mobility and exchangeable value affect and reflect the relations aspirations and orientations of the exchange participants Small traces a genealogy of how this phenomenon has shifted through changing remittance forms and transfer infrastructures from material and black market to formal bank and money services Transformations in the affective and institutional relations among givers receivers and remittance facilitators accompany each of these shifts illustrating that the socio cultural work of remittances extends far beyond the formal economic realm they are usually consigned to

Transformations Grant David McCracken, 2008-05-12 Self reinvention has become a preoccupation of contemporary culture In the last decade Hollywood made a 500 million dollar bet on this idea with movies such as Multiplicity Fight Club eXistenZ and Catch Me If You Can Self reinvention marks the careers of Madonna Ani DiFranco Martha Stewart and Robin Williams The Nike ads of LeBron James the experiments of New Age spirituality the mores of contemporary teen culture and the obsession with extreme makeovers are all examples of our culture s fixation with change In a time marked by plenitude transformation is one of the few things these parties have in common Although transformation is widely acknowledged as a defining characteristic of our culture we have almost no studies on what it is or how it works Transformations offers the first comprehensive and systematic view It is an ethnography of the contemporary world

Transformation Gibson Winter, 1989 The Transformation of Consciousness in Myth John W. Tigue, 1994 The Transformation of Consciousness in Myth reflects the spectacle of our age with its changing ideas and values This work is an exploration of past myths and their relationship with our present personal and social mythologies as related through psychology As many of our present myths are becoming obsolete the author elaborates upon what will replace them Human beings spiritual journeys and their purpose in the cosmos are discussed The theories of Carl Jung and Joseph Campbell are used to explain and clarify the transformation of consciousness that occurs in myth and to those persons who enter into the psychological journey of myth making A primary source for furthering personal and global transformation is the role of the feminine Professor Tigue seeks to clarify and deepen our understanding of Jung s collective unconscious and archetypes His holistic approach of integrating mysticism spirituality myth and psychology is of particular value for the ardent seeker

Spiritual Transformation and Healing Joan Koss-Chioino, Philip Hefner, 2006 Joan D Koss Chioino and Philip Hefner s new volume is unique in exploring the meaning of spiritual transformation and healing with new research from a scientific perspective An interdisciplinary group of contributors anthropological psychological medical theological and biological scientists investigate the role of religious communities and healing practitioners with spiritual transformation as their medium of healing Individual authors evaluate the meaning of spiritual transformations and the consequences for those who experience it the contributions of indigenous healing systems new frameworks for neurological and physiological correlates of transformative religious experiences the support from neuroscience for the radical empathy and intersubjective exchange that takes place in healing practices and evidence for universal elements of the healing process This exciting new book will be an invaluable resource for those generally interested in the role of religion in society across the sciences social sciences and all religious traditions With a foreword by Solomon H Katz 1830-1848, the End of Metaphysics as a

Transformation of Culture Herbert De Vriese, 2003 The question of the end of metaphysics is generally considered as a central issue concerning the nature and significance of philosophy as such and accordingly as belonging to the realm of pure or fundamental philosophy By contrast this book investigates to what extent the end of metaphysics might be related to specific influences from outside philosophy Focusing on the period between 1830 and 1848 it argues that metaphysics was not so much challenged by internal philosophical argument but rather by a transformation of Western culture in its entirety Metaphysics was overtaken by the modern spirit of the age In consequence this book approaches the end of metaphysics as a problem of the philosophy of culture Three historians of culture provide an overview and analysis of the Age of Revolution by focusing upon the political revolution in France the industrial revolution in England and the intellectual revolution in Germany respectively The proclamations of the end of metaphysics by Auguste Comte Friedrich Engels and Otto Friedrich Gruppe are shown to mirror this threefold cultural transformation Against this backdrop the idea of the end of metaphysics is brought into relief as a historical reality during the years 1830 to 1848 The editors are members of the Centre for Metaphysics and Culture at the University of Antwerp
