Jinping's Era Suisheng Zhao, 2024-11-01 Taiwan is one of the flashpoints with the potential to spark a war in East Asia With the rhetoric of striving for peaceful unification Xi Jinping has made clear that the Taiwan question is China's core national interest making it essentially non negotiable and important enough to go to war How has Beijing's Taiwan policy evolved What is the support for armed reunification among the Chinese people And how have Taiwan's internal dynamics and external relations changed in response to Beijing's evolving policy toward Taiwan These are crucially important questions that this edited volume delves into and hopes to answer This book will appeal to students and scholars of Chinese foreign policy Taiwan studies and cross Strait relations Political Science International Relations as well as Asian politics more generally The chapters in this book were originally published in the Journal of Contemporary China and are accompanied by a new Introduction

China's Strategic Competition with the United States Russell Ong, 2011-10-20 This book examines the transformation and the multifaceted nature of the relationship between US and China in the post Cold War era It examines their nature and implications of their strategic competition in military political and economic terms as well as in relation to Taiwan Japan the Korean peninsula and Central Asia the author argues that both powers compete in virtually every sphere in the international system their relationship is overall competitive rather than co operative even in areas that are amenable to co operation such as trade and nuclear non proliferation The book addresses important questions including does China's growing power and influence unavoidably come at the expense of the United States or the wider world And asks to what extent do the national interests and policies of the United States and China coincide or diverge on a host of regional issues It covers all the important issues including politics security nuclear deterrence military modernization energy trade and economic interaction and Asia Pacific power reconfiguration

An American Perspective on the Role of Taiwan in US-China Relations Ryan Hass, 2022 This paper argues that the future of Taiwan will turn on whether the people of Taiwan can maintain confidence in their future Confidence is the essential ingredient to gird the Taiwan people to resist fatalistic conclusions that resistance is futile and instead protect their autonomy and democratic way of life until such time as peaceful uncoerced solutions emerge to resolve cross Strait differences Since 2016 the PRC has intensified its campaign of coercion to undermine the Taiwan people's confidence in Taiwan's future autonomy and democratic way of life For the United States to preserve its abiding interest in upholding peace and stability in the Taiwan Strait it will need to visibly support efforts to enable Taiwan to enjoy dignity security and prosperity even as it also maintains a credible military presence around Taiwan U S policymakers also will need to restore coherence to policy decisions and public messaging relating to Taiwan
