Where Europe Begins:

Where Europe Begins Yoko Tawada, 2014-05-29 A gorgeous collection of fantastic and dreamlike tales by one of the world's most innovative contemporary writers Chosen as a 2005 Times Literary Supplement Book of the Year Where Europe Begins has been described by the Russian literary phenomenon Victor Pelevin as a spectacular journey through a world of colliding languages and multiplying cities In these stories disparate settings Japan Siberia Russia and Germany the reader becomes as much a foreigner as the author or the figures that fill this book the ghost of a burned woman a traveler on the Trans Siberian railroad a mechanical doll a tongue a monk who leaps into his own reflection Through the timeless art of storytelling Yoko Tawada discloses the virtues of bewilderment estrangement and Hilaritas the goddess of rejoicing Where Europe Begins Yōko Tawada, 2002 A gorgeous collection of fantastic and dreamlike tales by one of the world's most innovative contemporary writers German Women Writers and the Spatial Turn: New Perspectives Carola Daffner, Beth A.

Muellner, 2015-07-01 In the last few decades the phrase spatial turn has received increased attention in German Studies inspired by developments within the discipline of geography The volume German Women Writers and the Spatial Turn: New Perspectives engages the analytical category of space and the spatial turn in the context of German women's writing The collection of essays divides its discussion of spatiality in German literature into sections that reflect privileged sites within the current scholarly debates around space Essays look to such issues as environmentalism globalization migration and immigration concerns of belonging points of encounter spaces and places of im mobility topographies of departure and arrival movement motion or shifting identities German Women Writers and the Spatial Turn: New Perspectives continues the challenge to understand the representation of space and place in German language texts by focusing on how spatial theory figures into the realm of feminist thinking and writing Tawada Yoko Doug Slaymaker, 2019-11-06 This collection draws from scholars across different languages to address and assess the scholarly achievements of Tawada Yoko Yoko born in Japan 1960 and based in Germany writes and presents in both German and Japanese The contributors of this volume recognize her as one of the most important contemporary international writers Her published books alone number more than fifty volumes with roughly the same number in German and Japanese Tawada's writing unfolds at the intersections of borders whether of language identity nationality or gender Her characters are all travelers of some sort often foreigners and outsiders caught in surreal in between spaces such as between language and culture or between species subjectivities and identities Sometimes they exist in the spaces between gendered and national identities sometimes they are found caught between reality and the surreal perhaps madness Tawada has been one of the most prescient and provocative thinkers on the complexities of travelling and living in the contemporary world and thus has always been obsessed with passports and trouble at borders This current volume was conceived to augment the first edited volume of Tawada's work Yoko Tawada: Voices from Everywhere which appeared from Lexington Books in 2007 That volume represented the first extensive English language coverage of Tawada's writing. In the meantime there is increased scholarly interest in Tawada's artistic activity and it is time for more sustained critical examinations of her output. This collection gathers and analyzes essays that approach the complex international themes found in many of Tawada's works.

Translingual Creative Writing Theory, Practice, and Pedagogy Jennifer Quist, 2025-05-15. In a challenge to monolingual Anglophone dominated creative writing workshops this book explores why and how students' multilingual backgrounds and lack of fluency with the English language can emerge as assets rather than impediments to artistry and creativity. Grounded in the Chinese tradition of Daoism as an ongoing discourse this exploration uses rigorous academic readings of the philosophical text the Zhuangzi as an analytical framework and takes a translingual approach to writing where translation and composition intersect inscribing one language upon another within a single text. With concepts that resist expression such as inspiration, uncertainty, non-knowing, spontaneity, unity, forgetting the self and the perfection behind the imperfection of language, Jennifer Quist demonstrates how Daoism's theories and metalanguage can re-imagine creative writing education whilst de-naturalizing the authority of English and Euro-American literary traditions. With analytical lenses derived from East Asia given context through translations of Chinese educators' primary accounts of the history and theory of postsecondary creative writing education in 21st century China, Quist develops a method for examining the practices of exemplary translingual writers from China, Japan and their diasporas. Featuring translingual writing prompts and practices for individual or classroom use by students at all levels of multilingualism, Translingual Creative Writing Theory, Practice, and Pedagogy opens up the current workshop model and discloses the possibilities of linguistic transcendence for instructors and students. With writing strategies based in cross-cultural collaboration and balanced with de-Anglicization of creative writing pedagogy, this book calls to rework the structures, methods and metaphors of the workshop and presents ideas for more collaborative, collective, equitable, diverse and inclusive programs.
