Where The World Is Made:

How the World Made the West Josephine Quinn, 2025-10-21 An award winning Oxford history professor makes a forceful argument and tells a story with great verve The Wall Street Journal that the West is and always has been truly global Those archaic Western Civ classes so many of us took in college should be updated argues Quinn who invites us to revel in a richer more polyglot inheritance The Boston Globe AN ECONOMIST BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR LONGLISTED FOR THE CUNDILL HISTORY PRIZE In How the World Made the West Josephine Quinn poses perhaps the most significant challenge ever to the civilizational thinking regarding the origins of Western culture that is the idea that civilizations arose separately and distinctly from one another Rather she locates the roots of the modern West in everything from the law codes of Babylon Assyrian irrigation and the Phoenician art of sail to Indian literature Arabic scholarship and the metalworking riders of the Steppe to name just a few examples According to Quinn reducing the backstory of the modern West to a narrative that focuses on Greece and Rome impoverishes our view of the past This understanding of history would have made no sense to the ancient Greeks and Romans themselves who understood and discussed their own connections to and borrowings from others They consistently presented their own culture as the result of contact and exchange Quinn builds on the writings they left behind with rich analyses of other ancient literary sources like the epic of Gilgamesh holy texts and newly discovered records revealing details of everyday life A work of breathtaking scholarship How the World Made the West also draws on the material culture of the times in art and artifacts as well as findings from the latest scientific advances in carbon dating and human genetics to thoroughly debunk the myth of the modern West as a self made miracle In lively prose and with bracing clarity as well as through vivid maps and color illustrations How the World Made the West challenges the stories the West continues to tell about itself It redefines our understanding of the Western self and civilization in the cosmopolitan world of today

A World Made for Money Bret Wallach, 2015-05 A spirited and incisive survey of economic geography A World Made for Money begins with the author stopped at a red light in Norman Oklahoma Observing the landscape of drugstores and banks and for that matter the stoplight and roads themselves Bret Wallach observes Everything I see has been built to make money or at the very least to facilitate making money This he argues is a global phenomenon that nonetheless has occurred only within the past hundred years or so Although guidebooks and culture brokers often disparage these landscapes of commerce Wallach recipient of a MacArthur genius grant argues that we would do well to pay them close attention A World Made for Money provides a compelling condensed tour of our world From Silicon Valley to Sri Lanka from post Soviet Russia to post apartheid South Africa Wallach looks at how human beings are buying manufacturing working growing and shipping food and accessing the natural resources to fuel it all These essential facets of daily life propelled by the profit motive represent a transnational force shaping our surroundings and environment in ways that may not always be beautiful or even healthy but that are fundamental to understanding how the world works in the twenty first century Wallach examines the relationship between acquisitiveness and landscape reveals surprising contradictions and nuances and provides fresh perspective on politically charged topics such as sprawl deindustrialization and agribusiness A World Made New Mary Ann Glendon, 2002-06-11 Unafraid to speak her mind and famously tenacious in her convictions Eleanor Roosevelt was still mourning the death of FDR when she was asked by President Truman to lead a controversial commission under the auspices of the newly formed United Nations to forge the world's first international bill of rights A World Made New is the dramatic and inspiring story of the remarkable group of men and women from around the world who participated in this historic achievement and gave us the founding document of the modern human rights movement Spurred on by the horrors of the Second World War and working against the clock in the brief window of hope between the armistice and the Cold War they grappled together to articulate a new vision of the rights that every man and woman in every country around the world should share regardless of their culture or religion A landmark work of narrative history based in part on diaries and letters to which Mary Ann Glendon an award winning professor of law at Harvard University was given exclusive access A World Made New is the first book devoted to this crucial turning point in Eleanor Roosevelt's life and in world history Finalist for the Robert F Kennedy Book Award Genealogical chronology of the world before Christ, ed. by K.A.
