Tabula Rosa:

Tabula Rosa Rachel Blau DuPlessis, 1987 PHILOSOPHICAL EXPLORATION THROUGH THE MIND, HEART AND SOUL OF NURSES Anita Siccardi; Karen Iseminger, 2008-01-14 Creating an amalgamation of nursing education and philosophy is one of the distinctive features of this book While each of these disciplines is well established in their academic endeavors the book provides a unique voice of nursing in the analysis of philosophy's role in education To that end the book features nurses' critiques of leading philosophers who have very valuable lessons for health care education Each chapter has been written to capture aspects of the heart, mind, and soul of nursing as appreciated through an exploration of a foremost philosopher The contributors investigate their scholar's history, the essential features, and examination of their work and offer pragmatic discussion questions based upon their work Personal transcendence of the authors occurred as an unexpected byproduct of their immersion with the philosophers This book provides philosophical underpinnings of health care education that nurses, nursing educators, clinical specialists, and general healthcare educators, as well as academic faculty, will appreciate

Thinking with the Poem Andrew R. Mossin, 2024-12-15 Broad ranging and pluralistically investigative the essays in Thinking with the Poem document Rachel Blau DuPlessis's authorial interventions as a poet, scholar, and cultural critic steeped in the linguistic and political frames of her time The writers included in this volume engage root level questions at the heart of DuPlessis's praxis as posed by her in a recent essay: What is a poem? what is a poet? what is an oeuvre? what is the poetic? Inventive and noncanonical these essays offer substantive responses to these and other questions, providing new routes of inquiry into the poetry and poetics of this preeminent figure of new writing

Pedagogy in Practice: Theoretical Frameworks, Instructional Strategies, and Contextual Influences Rajendra Kumar Shah, 2025-03-11 Teaching is an inherently intricate, intellectually demanding, and multifaceted endeavor Since antiquity, eminent educational philosophers from Socrates and Plato to contemporary scholars have engaged in profound discourse on optimizing pedagogical effectiveness With the institutionalization of formal education, teaching predominantly evolved within a teacher-centered paradigm, a model that continues to exert considerable influence in educational settings However, mounting critiques of this approach have catalyzed the advancement of learner-centered pedagogy Notably, Rousseau's advocacy for child-centered pedagogy served as a pivotal foundation for subsequent theoretical and practical developments in learner-centered pedagogy Consequently, efforts are underway to integrate this paradigm to varying degrees into educational systems across the globe During the 1970s, the field of education witnessed the emergence of groundbreaking intellectual discourses that critically examined various dimensions of formal education, including its objectives, pedagogical frameworks, curricular structures, and assessment methodologies This period also marked the growing recognition of education as an inherently political enterprise inseparable from broader sociopolitical dynamics Within this context, the distinguished educational theorist Paulo Freire conducted a profound critique of conventional education systems, characterizing them as the banking model of education He vehemently opposed traditional instructional practices advocating instead for a critical and emancipatory pedagogical approach designed to facilitate societal transformation The teaching learning process can be categorized into teacher centered learner centered and transformation centered approaches each with distinct philosophical underpinnings and pedagogical implications However a significant gap persists in the availability of comprehensive scholarly resources that facilitate an in depth assessment of these pedagogical paradigms How can teacher centered pedagogy be refined to optimize its efficacy Despite its emphasis on active engagement learner centered education has also been subject to critique how can its limitations be systematically addressed to enhance instructional effectiveness Furthermore what constitutes transformative education and how can it be meaningfully integrated into classroom practice These questions are of paramount significance to educators parents students educational administrators and curriculum developers This book endeavors to explore these critical themes with the aspiration that it will provide valuable insights to its readers however modest the impact may be
