Adult Social Care Ferguson, Iain,Lavalette, Michael,2013-10-23 Adult social care in Britain has been at the centre of much media and public attention in recent years Revelations of horrific abuse in learning disability settings the collapse of major private care home providers abject failures of inspection and regulation and uncertainty over how long term care of older people should be funded have all given rise to serious public concern In this short form book part of the Critical and Radical Debates in Social Work series Iain Ferguson and Michael Lavalette give an historical overview of adult social care The roots of the current crisis are located in the under valuing of older people and adults with disabilities and in the marketisation of social care over the past two decades The authors critically examine recent developments in social work with adults including the personalisation agenda and the prospects for adult social care and social work in a context of seemingly never ending austerity

Patrol Philip MacDonald,2016-08-02 The novel that inspired John Ford s The Lost Patrol A band of World War I soldiers fights to survive in the desert after their leader is shot and killed There had been here eleven men Now ten rode away In the Mesopotamian desert during the First World War an unseen enemy guns down the leader of a British patrol The officer was the only one who knew their orders and he did not told anyone else where they are located Now the sergeant must lead his men through a hostile desert landscape full of invisible Arab snipers One by one they are being picked off and the group of diverse men with different backgrounds must try to come together in order to survive
