Using Learning Contracts Malcolm Shepherd Knowles, 1986 Using learning contracts Malcolm Shepherd Knowles, 1991 An Historical Analysis of the Development of Thinking in the Principal Writings of Malcolm Knowles George William Henry, 2009 Malcolm Shepherd Knowles was a key writer and theorist in the field of adult education in the United States He died in 1997 and left a large legacy of books and journal articles This thesis traced the development of his thinking over the 46 year period from 1950 to 1995 It examined the 25 works authored co authored edited reissued and revised by him during that period The writings were scrutinised using a literature research methodology to expose the theoretical content and a history of thought lens to identify and account for the development of major ideas The methodology enabled a gradual unfolding of the history A broadly consistent and sequential pattern of thought focusing on the notion of andragogy emerged The study revealed that after the initial phases of exploratory thinking Knowles developed a practical theoretical framework he believed could function as a comprehensive theory of adult learning As his thinking progressed his theory developed into a unified framework for human resource development and later into a model for the development of self directed lifelong learners The study traced the development of Knowles thinking through the phases of thought identified the writings that belonged within each phase and produced a series of diagrammatic representations showing the evolution of his conceptual framework The production of a history of the development of Knowles thought is the major outcome of the study In addition to plotting the narrative sequence of thought events the history helps to explicate the factors and conditions that influenced Knowles thinking and to show the interrelationships between ideas The study should help practitioners in their use and appreciation of Knowles works Instructional Development Paradigms Charles R. Dills, A. J. Romiszowski, 1997 An encyclopedic examination of competing paradigms in the areas of instructional design and development at all levels and in a variety of environments The 46 treatments feature the analysis of experienced scholars and sometimes the authors of the particular theories under discussion which include topics in instructional development in its philosophical mode constructivism postmodernism systems approach as a cultural vantage point and in theory and application reviewing the effects of technology on class design the influences of semiotics the strategic advantages of constructivist instruction versus linear designs and modeling for applying design strategies from constructivism and cognitive theory to individualizing instruction with adult learners Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Critical Social Issues in American Education H. Svi Shapiro, 2004-09-22 This text reader brings together powerful readings that critically situate issues of education in the context of the major cultural moral political economic ecological and spiritual crises that confront us as a nation and a global community It provides a focus and a conceptual framework for thinking about education in light of these issues Readers are exposed to the thinking of some of the best and most insightful social and educational commentators Critical Social Issues in American Education Democracy and Meaning in a Globalizing World Third Edition is intended to work on two levels First it helps readers to develop an awareness of how education is connected to the wider social structures of cultural political and economic life Second it encourages not only a critical examination of our present social reality but also a serious discussion of alternatives of what a transformed society and educational process might look like The editors goal is to deliberately engage readers in connecting the work of teachers to an ethically committed politically charged pedagogy The assumption on which they base the text is that educators must see their work as inextricably linked to the broader conflicts stresses and crises of the social world it is not otherwise possible to make sense of what is happening educationally What happens in school or as part of the educational experience reflects expresses and mediates profound questions about the direction and nature of the society we inhabit The text is organized thematically into five sections which address respectively social justice and democracy consumerism culture and public education marginality and difference moral and spiritual perspectives on education and globalization and education Each section is preceded by a brief essay that introduces the readings This Third Edition includes many new readings and addresses issues that have more recently emerged as especially significant such as concerns about the implications of globalization and the post 9 11 world commercialism violence and the ever increasing influence of high stakes testing This compelling text is relevant for a wide range of courses in educational foundations educational policy curriculum studies and multicultural education that address the social context of education cultural and political change and public policy

International Perspectives on Competence in the Workplace C.R. Velde, 2011-06-27 In the future a more competent workforce will be required as workers will have to acquire the competence to predict and deal with novel situations at work This book aims to provide the reader with insightful perspectives about competence in different situations and contexts It presents a more enlightened view of human competence by opening up an international dialogue about the meaning and interpretation of competence in the workplace and the impact of learning environments on workplace policy and practice Five major premises which provide a basis for how we interpret experience and teach competence in the workplace are put forward notions of worker competence and the persuasiveness of informal workplace training developing competence as an individual and the inherent relationship between the worker and work and the lifeworld learning which develops higher level competences based on a more holistic conception of competence characteristics of learning environments as integral components of learning at work learning environments construed as theoretical and methodological problems in terms of their impact on the acquisition of competence International Journal of Institutional Management in Higher Education, 1986
