The Writing Commitment Michael E. Adelstein, Jean G. Pival, 1984 The Writing Commitment, 1996 Poetical Works of the Charactress and the Writing Caruso Sunnie D. Kidd, Jim Kidd, 2018-10-06 Americans as a whole are not and never have been poetic people Yes we do have a few exceptions that prove the rule Dickinson Poe Frost Nonetheless we are a country steeped in missions of religious and economic freedom of the corrosive mythologies of manifest destiny and of hypernationalistic exceptionalism The legitimation of pursuit is enshrined in our founding documents Thus it is a matter of great consequence to come upon not one but two true American poets such as the Charactress and the Writing Caruso both of whom have cultural roots in inherently poetic communities Their voices are able to access a primal dimension unfettered by anthropocentric superficialities

The Interpreters: Ritual, Violence, and Social Regeneration in the Writing of Wole Soyinka Bello, Hakeem, 2015-03-18 A concern for social regeneration stands as the factor that animates Soyinka's life long involvement in social and political activism leading to his incarceration for two years during the civil war and his having to flee into exile during the period of Sani Abacha's dictatorship Soyinka expresses this same concern for social regeneration in his writings using different metaphors The focus of this work lies in the exploration of the articulations of social regeneration in the works of Wole Soyinka The first part focuses on the dramatic works and the argument of the author is that the metaphor adopted by Africa's foremost playwright in articulating his vision of social regeneration is that of ritual Attention shifts in part two to Soyinka's two novels and here Bello goes to the roots of Yoruba metaphysics to fetch a metaphor which describes a creature with contradictory personality which at once is committed to the regeneration of the social order while at the same time retaining a vindictive vengeful nature
