Untangled Web:

Blogwars David D. Perlmutter, 2008-03-07 Political blogs have grown astronomically in the last half decade In just one month in 2005 for example popular blog DailyKos received more unique visitors than the population of Iowa and New Hampshire combined But how much political impact do bloggers really have In Blogwars David D Perlmutter examines this rapidly burgeoning phenomenon exploring the degree to which blogs influence or fail to influence American political life Challenging the hype Perlmutter points out that blogs are not that powerful by traditional political measures while bloggers can offer cogent and convincing arguments and bring before their readers information not readily available elsewhere they have no financial moral social or cultural leverage to compel readers to engage in any particular political behavior Indeed blogs have scored mixed results in their past political crusades But in the end Perlmutter argues that blogs in their wide dissemination of information and opinions actually serve to improve democracy and enrich political culture He highlights a number of the particularly noteworthy blogs from the specialty to the superblog including popular sites such as Daily Kos The Huffington Post Powerlineblog Instapundit and Talking Points Memo and shows how blogs are becoming part of the tool kit of political professionals from presidential candidates to advertising consultants While the political future may be uncertain it will not be unblogged For many Internet users blogs are the news and editorial sites of record replacing traditional newspapers magazines and television news programs Blogwars offers the first full examination of this new and controversial force on America s political landscape
