A Tomb for Boris Davidovich Danilo Kiš,Iosif Aleksandrovič Brodskij,1980 The Facts on File Companion to the World Novel Michael Sollars,Arbolina Llamas Jennings,2008 Danilo Kiš's "A Tomb for Boris Davidovich" in the Context of Gulag Narratives Slaven Svetinović,2014 A Tomb for Boris Davidovich shares many characteristics of post testimonial Gulag narratives and should be considered a part of the Gulag literary corpus The tension between the testimonial function and its status as literature as well as the difficulty of giving literary form to the immense suffering of Gulag prisoners is a constant preoccupation in Ki s book as it is in all texts attempting to address the Gulag experience In addition Ki s stories like many other post testimonial fictional Gulag narratives engage the first hand accounts by not only including the specific thematic motifs or topoi but also by incorporating and rearranging them in such a way as to stay true to their testimonial purpose However Ki s documentary approach is not strictly historical but rather he documents serve as guiding posts and limits to the writer s imagination and the tension between the historical and the literary sides of the book often resolves in favor of literature

Imagined Dialogues Gordana Crnković,2000 By conducting imagined dialogues between selected literary works Eastern Europeans like Kis and Borowski on one hand American and English writers like Cage and Ishiguro on the other this book proposes an effective new way of reading literature one that goes beyond the narrowing categories of contemporary critical trends A new perspective on each of the works emerges as well as a heightened sense of the liberating power of literature
