World Geography Today 1997:

World Geography Today, 1997 Holt McDougal, 1997-01-01 Bahrain Carol Ann Gillespie, 2009 Discusses the geography history people culture economy and future of Bahrain The New Politics of the Textbook Heather Hickman, Brad J. Porfilio, 2012-10-13 In an age of unprecedented corporate and political control over life inside of educational institutions this book provides a needed intervention to investigate how the economic and political elite use traditional artifacts in K 16 schools to perpetuate their interests at the expense of minoritized social groups The contributors provide a comprehensive examination of how textbooks the most dominant cultural force in which corporations and political leaders impact the schooling curricula shape students thoughts and behavior perpetuate power in dominant groups and trivialize social groups who are oppressed on the structural axes of race class gender sexuality and disability Several contributors also generate critical insight in how power shapes the production of textbooks and evaluate whether textbooks still perpetuate dominant Western narratives that normalize and privilege patriotism militarism consumerism White supremacy heterosexism rugged individualism technology and a positivistic conception of the world Finally the book highlights several textbooks that challenge readers to rethink their stereotypical views of the Other to reflect upon the constitutive forces causing oppression in schools and in the wider society and to reflect upon how to challenge corporate and political dominance over knowledge production Encyclopedia of World Geography R. W. McColl, 2005 Presents a comprehensive guide to the geography of the world with world maps and articles on cartography notable explorers climate and more Agricultural Transformation, Food and Environment Henry Buller, Keith Hoggart, 2017-10-19 This title was first published in 2001 An interdisciplinary team of leading European scholars bring together case studies from Western and Eastern Europe to illustrate and critically analyze the shifting relationships of agricultural environmental and food policy in Europe In the most comprehensive book of its kind it examines the critical changes both in agricultural environmental and food politics and the way these domains have been investigated by European social scientists The book evaluates specific changes focussing in particular on agricultural restructuring in the face of globalization Europeanization and the collapse of the Soviet model of agricultural organization agriculture environmental relations and consumer preferences Beginning by examining the degree to which Europe offers a unique and identifiable rural experience the book includes a critical re examination of the process of agricultural transformation In the light of contemporary events and the over seductive and essentially mythical notion of post productivism Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1997 Bibliographic Guide to Maps and Atlases, 1997 Thinking Geographically Brendan Bartley, Phil Hubbard, Rob Kitchin, 2004-10-01 Thinking Geographically offers students and faculty alike an elegant concise and thorough overview of contemporary theoretical concerns in geography Easily accessible to those unfamiliar with social theory this volume pushes the envelope of understanding by sketching the contours of post structuralist spatial thought including such critical emerging topics as geographies of text the body money and globalisation

Brief biographies of influential theorists demonstrate how ideas are embodied and personified This volume is highly useful for courses in human geography the history and status of the discipline and will stand as a milestone in the discipline s conceptual understanding over the next decade or more Barney Warf Florida State University The last decade has seen Geography transformed by an astonishing range of cultural and philosophical concepts and approaches Thinking Geographically is designed for students as an accessible and enjoyable introduction to this new landscape of geographical ideas The book takes the reader through the history of geographic thought up to a survey of the present Contemporary theory is then used to explore real world issues drawn from across the discipline of social cultural political and economic geography Entertainingly written and packed with examples and with profiles of key theorists the book is an ideal introduction for any student who wants to discover the potential of thinking geographically

Introducing Human Geographies Paul Cloke, Philip Crang, Mark Goodwin, 2013-12-05 Introducing Human Geographies is the leading guide to human geography for undergraduate students explaining new thinking on essential topics and discussing exciting developments in the field This new edition has been thoroughly revised and updated and coverage is extended with new sections devoted to biogeographies cartographies mobilities non representational geographies population geographies public geographies and securities Presented in three parts with 60 contributions written by expert international researchers this text addresses the central ideas through which human geographers understand and shape their subject Part I Foundations engages students with key ideas that define human geography s subject matter and approaches through critical analyses of dualisms such as local global society space and human nonhuman Part II Themes explores human geography s main sub disciplines with sections devoted to biogeographies cartographies cultural geographies development geographies economic geographies environmental geographies historical geographies political geographies population geographies social geographies urban and rural geographies Finally Part III Horizons assesses the latest research in innovative areas from mobilities and securities to non representational geographies This comprehensive stimulating and cutting edge introduction to the field is richly illustrated throughout with full colour figures maps and photos These are available to download on the companion website located at www.routledge.com 9781444135350
