Soviet Science, Technology, Design Raymond Hutchings, 1976      Soviet science, technology, design Raymond Hutchings, 1976      The Socialist Sixties Anne E. Gorsuch, Diane P. Koenker, 2013-06-12 A very engaging collection of essays that adds much to an evolving literature on the social history of the Soviet Union and broader socialist societies

Choice The 1960s have reemerged in scholarly and popular culture as a protean moment of cultural revolution and social transformation In this volume socialist societies in the Second World the Soviet Union East European countries and Cuba are the springboard for exploring global interconnections and cultural cross pollination between communist and capitalist countries and within the communist world Themes explored include flows of people and media the emergence of a flourishing youth culture sharing of songs films and personal experiences through tourism and international festivals and the rise of a socialist consumer culture and an esthetics of modernity Challenging traditional categories of analysis and periodization this book brings the sixties problematic to Soviet studies while introducing the socialist experience into scholarly conversations traditionally dominated by First World perspectives      Science, Technology, and Everyday Life, 1870-1950 Colin Chant, Richard Bessel, 1989 Eloquent Spaces adopts the twin analytic of meaning and community to write a fresh history of building in early India It presents a new perspective on the principles and practices of early Indian architecture Defining it broadly over a range of space uses the book argues for architecture as a form of cultural production as well as public consumption Ten essays by leading archaeologists architects historians and philosophers examining different architectural sites and landscapes including Sanchi Moodabidri Srinagar Chidambaram Patan Konark Basgo and Puri demonstrate the need to look beyond the built form to its spirit beyond aesthetics to cognition and thereby to integrating architecture with its myriad living contexts The volume captures some of the semantic diversity inherent in premodern Indian traditions of civic building both sacred and secular which were however unified in their insistence on enacting meaning and a transcendent validity over and above utility and beauty of form The book is a quest for a culturally rooted architecture as an alternative to the growing crisis of disembeddedness that informs modern praxis This volume will be of interest to scholars and practitioners of architecture ancient Indian history philosophy art history and cultural studies      Design, 1977      Slavic Review, 1977 Coverage of Russian Eurasian and East European issues      Soviet Studies Guide Tania Konn, 1992 Critical bibliographic references to core literature on land environment and people Soviet history society and culture government and politics international relations armed forces economy business science and technology and general reference      Science and Industrialisation in the USSR Robert A.
