Unburnable A Novel:

Unburnable Marie-Elena John, 2009-10-06 Haunted by scandal and secrets Lillian Baptiste fled Dominica when she was fourteen after discovering she was the daughter of Iris the half crazy woman whose life was told of in chant mas songs sung during Carnival songs about a village on a mountaintop littered with secrets masquerades that supposedly fly and wreak havoc and a man who suddenly and mysteriously dropped dead After twenty years away Lillian returns to her native island to face the demons of her past and with the help of Teddy a man who has loved her for many years she may yet find a way to heal Set in both contemporary Washington D C and post World War II Dominica Unburnable weaves together West Indian history African culture and American sensibilities Richly textured and lushly rendered Unburnable showcases a welcome and assured new voice

Matria Redux Tegan Zimmerman, 2023-06-23 In Matria Redux Caribbean Women Novelize the Past author Tegan Zimmerman contends that there is a need for reading Caribbean women's texts relationally This comprehensive study argues that the writer's turn to maternal histories constitutes the definitive feature of this transcultural and transnational genre Through an array of Caribbean women's historical novels published roughly between 1980 and 2010 this book formulates the theory of matria an imagined maternal space and time as a postcolonial psychoanalytic feminist framework for reading fictions of maternal history written by and about Caribbean women Tracing the development of the historical novel in four periods of the Caribbean past slavery colonialism revolution and decolonization this study argues that a pan Caribbean generation of women writers of varying discursive racialized realities has depicted similar matria constructs and maternal motifs A politicized concept matria functions in the historical novel as a counternarrative to traditional historical and literary discourses Through close readings of the mother daughter plots in contemporary Caribbean women's historical fiction such as Andrea Levy's The Long Song Edwidge Danticat's The Farming of Bones Paule Marshall's Praisesong for the Widow and Marie Elena John's Unburnable Matria Redux considers the concept of matria an important vehicle for postcolonial psychoanalytic feminist literary resistance and political intervention Matria as a psychoanalytic postcolonial strategy therefore envisions by returning to history alternative feminist fictions futures and Caribbeans

Grotesque Touch Amy King, 2021-09-13 In this book Amy K King examines how violence between women in contemporary Caribbean and American texts is rooted in plantation slavery Analyzing films television shows novels short stories poems book covers and paintings King shows how contemporary media reuse salacious and stereotypical depictions of relationships between women living within the plantation system to confront its legacy in the present The vestiges of these relationships enslavers and enslaved women employers and domestic servants lovers and rivals negate characters efforts to imagine non abusive approaches to power and agency King's work goes beyond any other study to date to examine the intersections of gender sexuality race ethnicity class ability and nationality in U S and Caribbean depictions of violence between women in the wake of slavery

Reading/Speaking/Writing the Mother Text; Essays on Caribbean Women's Writing Cristina

Herrera, Paula Sanmartín, 2015-08-01 A groundbreaking exploration of motherhood in Caribbean women's literature This collection of essays fills a critical gap in literary scholarship by examining the multifaceted representations of mothers and mothering in Caribbean women's writing It challenges traditional interpretations and offers fresh perspectives on the complexities of maternal experiences in the region Reading Speaking Writing the Mother Text delves into themes of identity memory history and violence showcasing the diverse voices of Caribbean women authors From postcolonial analyses to gender studies the essays explore the unique challenges and triumphs of motherhood in the Caribbean context Discover how these writers construct their texts to theorize motherhood maternity and mother daughter relationships Gain insights into the understudied theme of motherhood in Caribbean literature Explore the diverse perspectives of Caribbean women authors Understand the complexities of mother daughter relationships in the Caribbean context For academics students and anyone interested in Caribbean literature women's studies and postcolonial studies this collection offers a rich and insightful exploration of a vital and often overlooked subject Margaret Atwood's Aesthetics Dunja M. Mohr, Kirsten

Sandrock, 2025-03-31 Perhaps more timely than ever Margaret Atwood's Aesthetics offers novel perspectives on both contemporary and canonical topics in Margaret Atwood's work with a special focus on the intersections of literature and politics Arguably one of the most political writers of our times Atwood's oeuvre subtly and overtly entangles readers in the dialectics of personal and political power asymmetries intrinsic to her aesthetic practices The collection takes its cue from the concept of the artpolitical as coined by Crispin Sartwell whose afterword addresses Atwood's aesthetic and imaginative material world construction and explores the interrelationship between literatures and aesthetic as well as political systems in Atwood's works Individual chapters of Margaret Atwood's Aesthetics contribute to increasingly burning questions concerning the relevance of literature today by drawing on a variety of critical perspectives including Anthropocene studies gender intersectionality the nonhuman and the posthuman Mikhail Bakhtin's carnivalesque risk studies nationhood intermediality and teaching Chapters offer fresh views on some of Atwood's most prominent works such as The Handmaid's Tale and The Testaments and their transmedial adaptations while other chapters focus on Atwood's latest publications as well as on under researched works including her graphic novels and her web serialized publications Margaret Atwood's Aesthetics provides unique insights into the aesthetic and political power of Atwood's oeuvre arguing that literary and media representations and cultural adaptation practices contain a significant transformative potential that reaches beyond the page
