Women in Asian Management, 2005      Women in Asian Management Vimolwan Yukongdi, John Benson, 2013-10-18

According to a recent study by the ILO 2001 women's share of the labour force is increasing worldwide. Today women's participation rate in the labour force is over 40 per cent of the global workforce. Higher educational levels and falling fertility rates have contributed to this increased participation. There is also some evidence that women in some Asian countries may be less marginalised in their advancement into top managerial positions than their counterparts elsewhere. As women become more educated and qualified for managerial positions the number of Asian women managers and executives is predicted to rise over the next decade. This book examines the opportunities and barriers for women managers in Asia and presents an update on their progress in management. This book was previously published as a special issue of the Asian Pacific Business Review.

Asian Women in Corporate America: Emerging Research and Opportunities

Lakshminarayanan, Sambhavi, 2021-02-19. By necessity understanding of leadership has been based on who used to be business leaders namely men. In the last few years Asian women have been making their mark in corporate America. Although Asian women have become part of the American workforce and some have achieved spectacular success there is little discussion about them. Many of these women could be first generation immigrants still balancing the strong pull of two cultures. Even for second or third generation immigrants Asian cultures can often exert immense pressures. Thus the achievement of these women deserves far more attention than it has received and comprehensive research on these advances should be presented. Asian Women in Corporate America: Emerging Research and Opportunities traces the history of Asian women's presence as executives of major American corporations, presents biographical sketches of a select few, draws upon factors individual, corporate and societal that influenced their journeys and links to past theories on business leadership. The chapters serve to bring attention to a minority group in leadership and extricates factors that helped in the success of Asian American women in these prominent roles. While highlighting topics such as existing leadership theories, gender and ethnicity in leadership models, theories regarding Asian women and their involvement in major corporations, this book is a valuable reference tool for managers, executives, researchers, practitioners, academicians and students working in fields that include women's studies, gender studies, business and management, human resources management, management science and leadership.

The Changing Face of Women Managers in Asia Chris Rowley, Vimolwan Yukongdi, 2008-09-10. The influence of Asian cultures and religious traditions has often been used to explain Asian women's under utilisation and under representation in management. This book examines the influence of culture and tradition on organisational and management practices and how these affect the progress of women in management in Asian economies. This book, written by prominent scholars of the Asian region, explores which organizational and management practices are universal and which other aspects such as human resource practices are culture specific and how these in turn affect the advancement and representation of women in the Asian region Higher educational levels falling fertility rates and sectoral changes have contributed to women s increasing participation in the labour force As women become more educated and qualified for managerial positions the number of Asian women managers and executives is predicted to rise over the next decade The Asian economies covered by this up to date collection have undergone rapid economic transformation Until now most research on contemporary women managers has been drawn from studies conducted in developed countries Covering case studies in China Hong Kong Japan Malaysia Singapore South Korea Taiwan Thailand and Vietnam this book uses different perspectives to examine the constraints opportunities and challenges for women managers in the Asian context and presents an update on their progress in management

Handbook of Asian Management Kwok Leung, Steven White, 2007-05-08 Our understanding of management in Asia has not kept pace with the demands of managers and students The Handbook of Asian Management provides in depth critical reviews of central topics in strategy and organizational behavior research in Asian contexts Leading scholars take stock of what has been learned and give clear directions towards greater rigor and relevance for research in this region

Current Perspectives on Asian Women in Leadership Yonjoo Cho, Rajashi Ghosh, Judy Y. Sun, Gary N. McLean, 2017-09-27 This book explores the unique socioeconomic challenges encountered by female leaders in China India Japan Korea and other Asian countries where traditional cultural expectations and modernized values coexist It provides insight into gender inequality and underutilization of female talent as well as ways to develop highly qualified women in organizations Chapters from expert contributors analyze the similarities and differences between each Asian country the organizational and institutional challenges for women in the workplace and how they balance work family relationships It will appeal to researchers and students in human resource development management leadership Asia studies women s studies and political science among others

Asian Women as Leaders and Managers in Higher Education Le Cam Huyen, 2010 This study involves an examination of the absence of Asian women in the literature on women in leadership and management in higher education HE There exists a literature on Asian women in management recently depicted by a number of studies on the changing face of Asian women managers Adler 1993 Benson and Yukongdi 2005 Budhwar Saini and Bhatnagar 2005 Chou Posh and Foster 2005 Cooke 2005 Kang and Rowley 2005 Lee 2005 Ng and Chakrabarty 2005 Rowley and Truong 2009 Yuasa 2005 Yukongdi 2005 Yukongdi and Benson 2005 Yukongdi and Rowley 2009 However there has been a paucity of research in HE in these studies The economics and socio cultures of Asian countries within which HE systems operate are never homogeneous Yet as this thesis argues the available discourses of women in leadership and management largely grounded in Western countries have led to deficiencies in the knowledge about the experiences and perspectives of Asian women as leaders and managers Omar and Davidson 2001 This culminates in a failure to thoroughly explain the worldwide prevalent problem of women s under representation in leadership and management positions This thesis uses Vietnam as a context in order to examine the current literature on Asian women as
