Thinking in Psychological Science Jaan Valsiner,2017-12-02 This book explores the development of ideas in psychology s past It is the initial volume in a series intended to shape such ideas into a valuable resource for the discipline s future Scientists in general are known to ignore their own history considering it to be a graveyard of failures In Thinking in Psychological Science selected ideas of key figures in the cognitive comparative and developmental sides of psychology Karl Duncker Karl Bihler Tamara Dembo Zing Young Kuo C Lloyd Morgan Alexander Chamberlain and Arnold Gesell are traced and the social contexts of their ideas are given a collective analysis focusing on the potential of these ideas for the present state of psychology Representing the scientist as hero has become a necessary component when applying for research monies from governmentally controlled funding agencies Yet the reality is just the opposite Science is not just the product of heroes it is the product of many individuals who often search for solutions to basic problems throughout their lifetimes while only a few arrive at breakthroughs Still familiarity with the flow of thought in the efforts to solve the basic problems of humankind is necessary for any understanding of creativity This book analyzes the processes involved in the search for solutions to major theoretical problems of development Kuo Gesell action and cognition Bihler Bunker Dembo and methodology Morgan Ultimately this is an exciting volume that reveals real science in the making Thinking in Psychological Science will be of interest to students of the social sciences and intellectual history It is ideal for graduate and upper level undergraduate courses in psychology the sociology of science and cognitive science      Dynamic Process Methodology in the Social and Developmental Sciences Jaan Valsiner,Peter C. M. Molenaar,Maria C.D.P. Lyra,Nandita Chaudhary,2009-07-09 All psychological processes like biological and social ones are dynamic Phenomena of nature society and the human psyche are context bound constantly changing and variable This feature of reality is often not recognized in the social sciences where we operate with averaged data and with homogeneous stereotypes and consider our consistency to be the cornerstone of rational being Yet we are all inconsistent in our actions within a day or from one day to the next and much of such inconsistency is of positive value for our survival and development Our inconsistent behaviors and thoughts may appear chaotic yet there is generality within this highly variable dynamic The task of scientific methodologies qualitative and quantitative is to find out what that generality is It is the aim of this handbook to bring into one framework various directions of construction of methodology of the dynamic processes that exist in the social sciences at the beginning of the 21st century This handbook is set up to bring together pertinent methodological scholarship from all over the world and equally from the quantitative and qualitative orientations to methodology In addition to consolidating the pertinent knowledge base for the purposes of its further growth this book serves the major educational role of bringing practitioners students researchers and professionals interested in applications the state of the art know how about how to think about extracting evidence from single cases and about the formal mathematical statistical tools to use for these purposes

The Encyclopedia of Human Ecology Julia R. Miller, Richard M. Lerner, Lawrence B. Schiamberg, Pamela M. Anderson, 2003-08-13 The first and only source to integrate the multiple disciplines and professions exploring the many ways people interact with the natural and designed environments in which we live Comprising more than 250 informative entries The Encyclopedia of Human Ecology examines the interdisciplinary and complex topic of human ecology Knowledge gathered from disciplines that study individuals and groups is blended with information about the environment from the fields of family science geography anthropology urban planning and environmental science At the same time professions intended to enhance individual and family life marriage and family therapy clinical psychology social work dietetic and other health professions are represented alongside those concerned with the preservation conservation and management of the environment and its resources How rampant are eating disorders among our youth Are AIDS educational programs effective What problems do adolescents transitioning into adulthood encounter Here four leading scholars in the field have assembled a team of top tier psychologists sociologists anthropologists and other experts to explore these and hundreds of other timely issues
