Using French Advanced Level B:

Multilingualism at Work Bernd Meyer, Birgit Apfelbaum, 2010 This volume focuses on work situations in Europe North America and South Africa such as academic medical and public sector or business settings in which participants have to make constant use of more than one language to cooperate with partners clients or colleagues Central questions are how the social and linguistic organization of work is adapted to the necessity of using different languages and how multilingualism impinges on the communicative outcome of different types of discourse or genres Thus the authors are all interested in multilingual practices at work which is to say how different forms of multilingual communication are managed flexibly adjusted to acquired and or improved in a given workplace setting that often calls for particular implicit or explicit language policies Thus this volume contributes to the study of workplace communication in a globalized world by drawing on different types of authentic data

An Analysis of the Knowledge and Use of English Collocations by French and Japanese Learners Shino Kurosaki, 2013-11 The present study investigated differences on the knowledge and use of collocations between French and Japanese learners with regard to 1 L1 influence and 2 combinability and transparency influence The test materials included four categories of the lexical collocations 1 verb noun 2 delexicalised verb noun 3 adjective noun and 4 adverb adjective The two types of tasks Multiple Choice Question Tasks and Translation Tasks are performed and the learner corpora are also investigated in order to examine whether the learners from different L1 backgrounds demonstrate different results Though L1 influence by both French and Japanese learners was demonstrated the Japanese learners showed a greater L1 influence in the adjective noun category than the French learners The investigation also found that L1 influence does not necessarily result in accuracy of the collocations With regard to the combinability and transparency influence the results of the two types of tasks followed Kellerman s 1978 remark However some contrasted results were also identified in learner corpus investigation Thus the combinability and transparency influence were not necessarily identified The results of the present study have a potential to improve teaching learning of collocations through recognizing the learners tendencies of learning collocations
