The Rights of Women in a Democratic Republic Frederick Grimke, 2016-08-12 Frederick Grimke is the last person anyone including scholars who have recounted the careers of his two sisters Sarah and Angelina in the nineteenth century feminist movement would have suspected of having a sympathetic interest in womens rights An intellectual with quietly held opinions on secession and slavery reflecting his antebellum southern heritage who spent the last two decades of his life pursuing interests in political theory he was famous among fellow townsmen for his aversion to female company But his affection for his sisters and his admiration for what they had achieved in their public careers inspired this essay The Rights of Women in a Democratic Republic in which he made a remarkably prescient forecast of the vocational future of American women including married women with children once given access to higher education The essay was nearly lost Grimke himself had doubts about it and after appealing to Sarah to help him resolve them died in 1863 leaving an instruction that it be omitted from the edition of all his writings which his executor published in 1871 in a cheaply fabricated volume with very small distribution Melhorns Epilogue reveals who the executor was and how he came to disobey the order for the essays suppression With new research findings revealing Grimkes influence on his sister Sarahs writings and the discovery of feminist issues as an undergraduate debate topic at Yale where he was educated Melhorns Commentary broadens the scope of the history of womens rights in America Women's Diaries, 1985 Encyclopedia of Women Social Reformers Helen Rappaport, 2001-12-06 The first comprehensive guide to women activists from every part of the world illuminating the broad range of women s struggles to reform society from the 18th century to the present Despite being marginalized disenfranchised impoverished and oppressed women have always stepped forward in disproportionate numbers to lead movements for social change This two volume encyclopedia documents the visions struggles and lives of women who have changed the world This encyclopedia celebrates the lives and achievements of nearly 300 women from around the globe women who have bravely insisted that the way things are is not the way they have to be Nadeshda Krupskaya the wife of Lenin spearheaded the drive against illiteracy in post revolutionary Russia American Dorothy Day founded the Catholic worker movement Begum Rokeya Hossain organized a girls school in Calcutta in 1911 Rachel Carson launched the modern environmental movement with her book Silent Spring The stories of these women and the hundreds of others collected here will restore missing pages to our history and inspire a new generation of women to change the world The Nation and Athenæum, 1930 National gender profile of agriculture and rural livelihoods FAO, 2025-12-16 The Country Gender Assessment CGA highlights key gender inequalities in Uzbekistan s agrifood systems Despite strong national commitments to gender equality gaps in sex disaggregated and agriculture specific data continue to limit recognition of women s contributions Rural women face restricted access to services infrastructure and decent work alongside heavy unpaid care responsibilities that drive time poverty Young rural women are particularly disadvantaged with high rates of
