Silly foods sweets and foods from other countries are some of the features of this delicious resource Building on the concepts offered in the acclaimed Mudluscious Libraries Unlimited 1986 this delightful volume focuses on the ever popular topic of food with an emphasis on activities that span the curriculum and offer opportunities for both written and oral expression Original stories songs chants and other learning activities are provided Grades K 3 Teaching in Themes Deborah Meier, Matthew Knoester, Katherine Clunis D'Andrea, 2015 How do teachers and schools create meaningful learning experiences for students with diverse skills abilities and cultures How can teachers authentically assess the learning of their students and build on their strengths and interests in ways that enrich the larger community How can schools be turned into places where everyone is learning from each other These are the big questions that guide the work of teachers at the well known Mission Hill School in Boston and that are addressed in this book Teaching in Themes will help schools incorporate a whole school theme based curriculum that engages students across grade levels K 8 The authors provide detailed descriptions of four thematic units What s Baking Learning Together About Bread and Bakeries The Impact of Nature and Play The Struggle for Justice U S History Through the Eyes of African Americans and Astronomical Inquiries Readers will see how teachers and students design emergent inquiries within the themes and create artwork music presentations and a variety of hands on learning experiences that support differentiated instruction across the curriculum Book Features Examples of whole school projects designed to create a deep sense of immersion in a curricular theme and to build a multi age learning community Details of how teachers developed rich curriculum tailored to their unique students The insights of legendary educator Deborah Meier on how whole school thematic units were used to encourage collaboration among teachers An afterword by teachers and film makers about the thinking behind their work featured in the widely viewed film series A Year at Mission Hill The schools Deborah Meier created in New York and Boston are outstanding examples of democratic education in action I will never forget the first time I visited one of Deborah s schools in East Harlem and saw the joy and curiosity on the faces of children and teachers alike I took time then to carefully describe the school s practices including its portfolio based assessment system because I believed the word needed to be spread I still do Happily this new book from Deborah and her colleagues at the Mission Hill School adds to the literature on creative and collaborative teaching and on building trusting and powerful learning communities Linda Darling Hammond Charles E Ducommun Professor of Education Stanford University Here is a book that shatters the prevailing definition of a good school as one with high test scores Teaching in Themes makes clear the often hidden fact that there are many kinds of good schools for children adults and a democratic society past and present Experienced teachers tell a fascinating story about Boston s Mission Hill School its goals curriculum classroom lessons and assessments that will knock the socks off many true believers in only one kind of a good school Larry Cuban Professor Emeritus of Education Stanford University Real student engagement is not the result of entertaining instruction it is borne from students being passionate about their own learning about becoming young experts This book gives a behind the scenes look at Mission Hill a remarkably successful public school where the quality of student thinking and student work takes precedence over test scores and where thematic learning builds powerful intellectual bridges within classrooms and across the school Ron Berger chief academic officer Expeditionary Learning Continuity and Rupture in Roman Mediterranean Gaul Benjamin P. Luley, 2020-09-16 With the decline in popularity of the term Romanization as a way of analyzing the changes in the archaeological record visible throughout the conquered provinces of the Roman Empire scholars have increasingly turned to the important concept of identity to understand the experiences of local peoples living under Roman rule Studies of identity in the Roman Empire have thus emphasized how local peoples rather than simply passively copying Roman culture actively created and recreated complex and multi faceted identities that incorporated local traditions within the increasingly connected and globalized world of the empire How did the violent nature of Roman rule in the provinces impact local communities and the ways in which individuals interacted with one another This book provides a detailed study of the ways in which the Celtic speaking peoples of the ancient settlement of Lattara in Roman Mediterranean Gaul fashioned their lives under two centuries of Roman rule and in particular the ways in which the creation of these lived experiences was entangled in the larger processes of Roman colonialism The important archaeological settlement and port of Lattara located today in modern Lattes in Mediterranean France was occupied from ca 500 BCE to 200 CE and has been the focus of extensive excavations by international teams of archaeologists for over 35 years The author seeks to understand the ways in which the daily lives of the inhabitants of Lattara were shaped and constrained by the particular historical circumstances of Roman rule involving the violent conquest of the province between 125 121 BCE the pacification of numerous revolts in the in the first half of the first century BCE and the imposition of an oppressive system of taxation land redistribution and grain levies Through a detailed analysis of the large corpus of archaeological evidence dating from ca 200 BCE to 200 CE at Lattara the author argues that the violent establishment of Roman rule in Mediterranean Gaul engendered very different forms of social relationships and interactions that structured the community during the late first century BCE and onward This involved a new organization of domestic space and living arrangements new relationships structuring the production and exchange of material goods different relationships between the community and the wider spiritual world and new strategies for acquiring political influence and power based upon the increasing importance of material wealth All of this occurred by the very end of the first century BCE despite the continued persistence of many aspects of local identity particularly evident in religious practices Furthermore these new social relationships were arguably paramount in the daily practices of reproducing Roman rule at Lattara and in the larger province of Mediterranean Gaul more generally practices that were in particular rooted in an ever increasing socio economic hierarchy Trill O.G
