Elena Lopez, Bharat Mehra, Margaret Caspe, 2021-09-01. Public libraries can increase their impact on knowledge development, innovation, and social change by promoting parent and family engagement in children's learning. Libraries are increasingly focusing on families. Educational research confirms that family engagement in children's learning and development predicts school readiness, positive social behaviors, high school graduation, interest in STEM careers, and post-secondary education. A Librarian's Guide to Engaging Families in Learning will inspire libraries and librarians to innovate and promote family learning from a child's earliest years through adolescence. By bringing together research and practice, it will deepen librarians' understanding of families' role in education and help them to learn new ways to build positive and trusting family partnerships that honor diverse cultures and languages, as well as to develop leadership for community impact. Written by thought leaders in the fields of family engagement and library science, each of the three main sections of the book begins with a framework followed by case studies illustrating key concepts of the framework. Cases are followed by reflections from practicing librarians. All chapters focus on practical family engagement in the social infrastructure, lifelong learning, and diversity and social justice.

All That Happened At Number 26 Denise Scott, 2011-09-25 All that Happened at number 26 now has a brand new cover with candid photos of Denise on the front I ll never forget the first time John and I saw number 26 We just knew it was going to be ours It was so awful and ugly and repulsive in every way not to mention the fact that it was located in a suburb I had sworn I'd rather die than live in that we knew we had a great chance of getting it. And so Denise Scott moved into number 26 with a husband, his circus equipment, a king-sized futon, but not a base, a Ventolin inhaler to cope with stress-induced asthma, no savings to speak of, and their newborn baby. The husband lost his eyebrows, the circus equipment multiplied, spilling over into any available space, the futon went mouldy, the Ventolin ran out, and another baby was added to the family, putting paid to any ideas of further savings. Forget about future plans, it was enough just to make it through the day. All lives have their hiccups, though, and this is no misery memoir far from it. The life that Denise and her husband John created in their ramshackle house is one of warmth, humour, and good old-fashioned ingenuity. When the roof leaked, the kids wore raincoats. When the kids developed eczema, Denise devised a menu consisting entirely of adzuki beans. And when the council dismantled play equipment at the local park, John built a cubby house with it, so what if it was sprayed with arsenic? It's not as if the kids were going to lick the walls. Written with Denise's trademark candour, is part memoir, part stand-up, this book is completely beguiling. Showing exactly what it takes to hold it all together when you want to follow your career dreams, maintain the love in a marriage, bring up kids who will get up off the couch and look after an ageing parent, all while retaining a healthy sense of self-doubt, this book is a heartwarmer for anyone. Australian Hotelier, 2002
