Social Reality:

The Construction of Social Reality John R. Searle, 2010-05-11 This short treatise looks at how we construct a social reality from our sense impressions at how for example we construct a five pound note with all that implies in terms of value and social meaning from the printed piece of paper we see and touch In The Construction of Social Reality eminent philosopher John Searle examines the structure of social reality or those portions of the world that are facts only by human agreement such as money marriage property and government and contrasts it to a brute reality that is independent of human agreement Searle shows that brute reality provides the indisputable foundation for all social reality and that social reality while very real is maintained by nothing more than custom and habit

Social Reality Finn Collin, 2012-11-12 Social reality is currently a hotly debated topic not only in social science but also in philosophy and the other humanities Finn Collin in this concise guide asks if social reality is created by the way social agents conceive of it Is there a difference between the kind of existence attributed to social and to physical facts do physical facts enjoy a more independent existence To what extent is social reality a matter of social convention Finn Collin considers a number of traditional doctrines which support the constructivist position that social reality is generated by our interpretation of it He also examines the way social facts are contingent upon the meaning invested in them by social agents the nature of social convention the status of social facts as symbolic the ways in which socially shared language is claimed to generate the reality described as well as the limitations of some of the over ambitious popular arguments for social constructivism

Black Separatism and Social Reality Raymond L. Hall, 2013-10-22 Black Separatism and Social Reality Rhetoric and Reason deals with the contemporary debate over black separatism in America It brings together for the first time many of the perspectives ideas orientations and ideologies that all directly or indirectly address the question of black separatism pro and con from the vantage point of their own realities It raises fundamental issues that have recurred throughout the last century and continue unabated today such as whether black Americans should seek their political destiny apart from white Americans or whether economic growth within the black community can eventually lead to true black power This book is comprised of 31 chapters and begins with a historical overview and social reality of black separatism in America how and why black separatist movements emerge and why separatism appeals to some individuals and not to others The next section explores the similarities of white racist assumptions and black separatism as well as the arguments for and against separatism The prospects of black separatism are analyzed along with Pan Africanism and black studies A comprehensive review of the history of separatist thought and a bibliography concerning the relation of Afro Americans with Africa are presented The possibility of a violent confrontation between whites and blacks is also considered Finally the book ponders the question of whether there is a need for a distinct black social science This monograph will appeal to sociologists social scientists political scientists politicians blacks and scholars of black studies

raised by the problem of social reality      The Nature of Social Reality Emanuele Fadda, Alfredo Givigliano, Claudia Stancati, 2014-10-17 Searle's theory of social reality is increasingly meeting with worldwide recognition and is undoubtedly the most prominent theory of social ontology at least in the post-analytical tradition even if actual research in this domain is engaged in critical confrontation with it Searle's approach continues to shape the debate but his construction is more and more sharply dissected both in its details and in its general assumptions Furthermore new perspectives not rooted in the analytical      Social Perception and Social Reality Lee Jussim, 2012-04-06 This title contests the received wisdom in the field of social psychology that suggests that social perception and judgment are generally flawed, biased, and powerfully self-fulfilling      The American Journal of Sociology, 1919      John Searle and the Construction of Social Reality Joshua Rust, 2005-12-15 In 1995 John Searle published The Construction of Social Reality, a text which not only promises to disclose the institutional backdrop against which speech takes place but initiates a new philosophy of society Since then The Construction of Social Reality has been subject to a flurry of criticism While many of Searle's interlocutors share the sense that the text marks an important breakthrough he has time and again accused critics of misunderstanding his claims Despite Searle's characteristic crispness and clarity there remains some confusion among both philosophers and sociologists regarding the significance of his proposals This book traces some of the high points of this dialogue leveraging Searle's own clarifications to propose a new way of understanding the text In particular Joshua Rust looks to Max Weber in suggesting that Searle has articulated an ideal type In locating The Construction of Social Reality under the umbrella of one of sociology's founding fathers this book not only makes Searle's text more accessible to the readers in the social sciences but presents Max Weber as a thinker worthy of philosophical reconsideration Moreover the recharacterization of Searle's claims in terms of the ideal type helps facilitate a comparison between Searle and other social theorists such as Talcott Parsons      The Philosophical Review Jacob Gould Schurman, James Edwin Creighton, Frank Thilly, Gustavus Watts Cunningham, 1913 An international journal of general philosophy      Émile Durkheim's Contributions to Sociological Theory Charles Elmer Gehlke, 1915      Sociology Edward Cary Hayes, 1930      Capital, a critical analysis of capitalist production, tr. by S.
