Some Other Horizon:

Dream, Death, and the Self J. J. Valberg, 2007-04-23 Publisher description History, Ethics, and the Recognition of the Other Anton Froeyman, 2015-09-25 This book introduces a new way of looking at the writing of history Rather than as the production of knowledge or the telling of stories it sees writing history as an ethical existential and emotional engagement with the people from the past The conceptual and philosophical basis for this view is provided by the philosophy of Emmanuel Levinas In the first part the view is presented and contrasted with other competing views such as those of Hans Georg Gadamer and Michel Foucault In the second part the view is argued for most importantly by an in depth discussion of one specific tradition of history writing microhistory and a series of close readings of several classical works from the history of historiography The third part finally explores some of the methodological consequences of this view and applies it to a non academic way of dealing with the past namely historical performance practice in music The book features a foreword by Frank Ankersmit

Kalambo Falls Prehistoric Site John Desmond Clark, 1969 The local basin in the Kalambo River valley above the famous Falls on the boundary between Zambia and Tanzania provides one of the longest and richest records of human activity so far recovered from a single site in the African continent Successive human occupation levels and horizons cover the past 60 000 years from the close of the Acheulian Industrial Complex to the present day This third and final volume of this major site report deals with the Middle and Earlier Stone Age period
