Nineteenth century British periodicals for girls and women offer a wealth of material to understand how girls and women fit into their social and cultural worlds of which music making was an important part The Girl s Own Paper first published in 1880 stands out because of its rich musical content Keeping practical usefulness as a research tool and as a guide to further reading in mind Judith Barger has catalogued the musical content found in the weekly and later monthly issues during the magazine s first thirty years in music scores instalments of serialized fiction about musicians music related nonfiction poetry with a musical title or theme illustrations depicting music making and replies to musical correspondents The book s introductory chapter reveals how content in The Girl s Own Paper changed over time to reflect a shift in women s music making from a female accomplishment to an increasingly professional role within the discipline using the piano girl as a case study A comparison with musical content found in The Boy s Own Paper over the same time span offers additional insight into musical content chosen for the girls magazine A user s guide precedes the chronological annotated catalogue the indexes that follow reveal the magazine s diversity of approach to the subject of music A Library of the World's Best Literature, Ancient and Modern: Songs, hymns, lyrics Charles Dudley Warner,Hamilton Wright Mabie,Charles Henry Warner,Lucia Isabella Gilbert Runkle,George H.
