Command and Control, Battle Management, and Communications

The Command and Control, Battle Management, and Communications (C2BMC) program is the key to the Ballistic Missile Defense System (BMDS). It is a vital operational system that enables the U.S. President, Secretary of Defense and Commanders of Military Regions and Subordinate Commands to coordinate and execute missile defense operations. To contribute to the nation's security, we're continuously upgrading our C2BMC architecture and systems to ensure greater and greater missile defense capabilities.

The National Defense System Stephen Goode,1977-01-01 Examines the military establishment in the United States from its origin to the present day and discusses the organization and function of the Department of Defense

The Political Economy Of National Defense William J Weida, Franklin L Gertcher,2019-07-11 This timely and wide ranging study covers both the economic and the political aspects of defense spending first by providing a theoretical framework and then by explaining in a political economy context the results of decisions to allocate scarce resources to defense In doing so the authors provide a comprehensive picture of the interaction between defense spending and the economic and political structure of the United States complementing their exploration of topical concerns such as SDI with analysis of long term trends and issues of timeless importance in the defense debate Because of the politicizing of defense planning and procurement there have been few significant applications of optimization techniques to high level defense issues over the past decade As a result there has been a rapid decline in the importance of those techniques historically the focus of books on defense economics Like its predecessors this book presents optimization techniques applicable to a wide variety of defense problems but it also illustrates what happens in actual practice and why defense decisions are often not economically efficient The authors discuss alternatives for cases when political constraints make efficient solutions unlikely and explore changes in the defense establishment and political structures that would make economically efficient resource allocations a reality
