The Nations In Waiting:

The Nation, 1908      Mapping the Nation Gopal Balakrishnan, 1996 Few political phenomena have proved as confusing or as difficult to comprehend as nationalism. There is no established consensus on its identity, genesis, or future. Are we, for example, in the process of being thrust back into a nineteenth-century world of competitive and aggressive great powers and petty nationalisms? Or rather are we being flung headlong into a new globalized and supra-national millennium? Has the nation-state outlived its usefulness and exhausted its progressive and emancipatory role, or has nationalism always been implicated in an exclusivist ethnic and militaristic logic? Mapping the Nation seeks to address these and other questions about the nature and destiny of the national question in the present epoch. A comprehensive and definitive reader on the subject with contributions from some of the most significant and stimulating theorists of the nation-state, it presents a wide range of divergent ideas and controversies. Leading off with powerful statements of the classic liberal and socialist positions by Lord Acton and Otto Bauer, there then follows an historical sociological debate between the late Ernest Gellner and the Czech historian Miroslav Hroch, the one stressing the connections between nationalism and the transition away from agrarian society, the other emphasizing its variability and real anthropological basis. John Breuilly and Anthony D. Smith, two of the leading British specialists, provide a counterpoint to each other with considerations on the respective importance of political leadership and continuing ethnic communities in the construction of nationalist movements. Gopal Balakrishnan, in a carefully honed critique of Benedict Anderson's seminal Imagined Communities, and Partha Chatterjee from the Subaltern Studies circle offer crucial insights on the limitations of the Enlightenment approach to nationhood, as do Sylvia Walby and Katherine Verdery with their reflections on the entanglements of nation, gender, and identity politics. Sociologist Michael Mann delivers an authoritative refutation of the chatter about the death of the nation-state. Finally, relating the theoretical questions directly to the politics of our time, renowned historian Eric Hobsbawm, provocative theorist Tom Nairn, and the outstanding political philosopher Jürgen Habermas discuss with varying degrees of optimism and pessimism the future of the national project.

The Outlook Lyman Abbott, Hamilton Wright Mabie, Ernest Hamlin Abbott, Francis Rufus Bellamy, 1922      The Oriental World Thomas Wallace Knox, 1878      Wrestling and Waiting John Fothergill Waterhouse Ware, 1882      The Twelve Minor Prophets Carl Friedrich Keil, 1871      Isaiah's Servant Poems According to the Septuagint Eugene Robert Ekblad, 1999 This study analyzes the Septuagint version of Isaiah's Servant Poems (Isaiah 42:1-8, 49:1-9, 50:4-11, 52:13-53:12) as a translation and unique interpretation of the Hebrew text. The Septuagint version of the Servant Poems is of interest not only because it represents one of the earliest, if not the first, interpretations of the Hebrew text and thus an important stage in the history of exegesis of these poems, but also because this translation operates a transition from Hebrew modes of thinking and expression into a Greek language and context. The Septuagint version of the Servant Poems was cited by New Testament writers, read and commented on as Sacred Scripture by the early Church Fathers, and continues to be used by the Eastern

Church This study is a helpful resource to Old Testament New Testament and Patristic scholars and theologians alike The introduction offers a methodology for classifying Septuagint differences to determine the specific exegesis and underlying theology of a given Septuagint text Differences with the Hebrew text are categorized according to linguistic explanations style the translator s difficulty determining Greek semantic equivalents for obscure Hebrew vocabulary errors or omissions etc Hebrew Vorlagen non linguistic explanations like contextual and intertextual exegesis and combinations of linguistic and non linguistic factors The author identifies over 270 differences with the Masoretic Text in a presentation of the Septuagint text of each poem side by side with the Masoretic Text Qumran variants are compared with the Masoretic Text and Septuagint to help classify Septuagint differences to determine which may be signs of the Septuagint s unique exegesis and theology The Septuagint s numerous differences are bold faced in the English translation of each poem before the author presents a detailed verse by verse literary analysis of the Septuagint in the wider context of Isaiah 1 66 and the Greek Pentateuch The author argues that the vast majority of Septuagint differences with the Masoretic Text in Isaiah s Servant Poems reflect contextual and intertextual exegesis The Septuagint version expresses theological perspectives that are at times similar and often distinct from the Masoretic Text In a final chapter the author draws on the exegesis of each poem in preceding chapters to present the theology visible in the Septuagint version of Isaiah s Servant Poems concluding with an appendix that catalogues textual differences between the Septuagint and the Masoretic Text and a biblical index
