Transportation And Communication:

The Future of Transportation and Communication Roland Thord,2011-12-27 We all know that networks are fundamental prerequisites for prosperity and production Transportation and communication are indispensable to society they are the elements which bind all economic systems together Without networks and communication all social and economic life will be reduced to isolated phenomena Therefore transportation can't be assessed in the same way as other services A smoothly functioning system of communications is also a prerequisite for social and economic integration between separate geographical regions The modernization of the infrastructure is therefore an urgent task and a precondition for carrying out the whole of Europe's ambitious political economic and social agenda Since the need for communication and transportation does not know any national borders the functioning of the networks needs to be adopted to this new economic and political geography Congestions of cities highways railroads airways and telecommunications must be tackled if precious working commuting and leisure time is not to be wasted and heavy burdens on the environment avoided European traffic is for example expected to double within the next twenty years In certain transport modes the growth is expected to be even faster air passenger transport doubled in 10 years and goods transport on roads doubled in 15 years Societal Contexts of Transportation and Communication Melvin M. future developments will continue to revolutionize transport systems leading to better cleaner more cost effective systems For example the concept of computer controlled rail systems such as London s Dockland Light Railway could be taken a stage further to apply to vehicles which don t run on rails or the smart traffic control system in Milton Keynes which sense traffic flow and adjusts signal phasing accordingly
