Transvaal Episode Harry Bloom, 1959 Episode i Transvaal Harry Bloom, 1953 The Muzzled Muse Margreet de Lange, 1997 A critical assessment of literature produced under censorship needs to take into account that the strategies of the censors are answered by strategies of the writers and the readers To recognize self censoring strategies in writing it is necessary to know the specific restrictions of the censorship regime in question In South Africa under apartheid all writers were confronted with the question of how to respond to the pressure of censorship This confrontation took a different form however depending on what group the writer belonged to and what language he she used By looking at white writers writing in Afrikaans and white and black writers writing in English this book gives the impact of censorship on South African literature a comparative examination which it has not received before The book considers works by J M Coetzee Nadine Gordimer Andre Brink and others less known to readers outside South Africa like Karel Schoeman Louis Kruger Christopher Hope Miriam Tlali and Mtutuzeli Matshoba It treats the censorship laws of the apartheid regime as well as in the final chapter the new law of the Mandela government which shows some surprising similarities to its predecessor First Supplementary Catalogue of the Library of the Royal Colonial Institute Royal Colonial Institute (Great Britain). Library, 1901 Transvaal Episode; a UFO Lands in Africa Anchor, 1958 Spear Paul S. Landau, 2022-06-07 Spanning the years just before and just after Nelson Mandela s 1962 arrest this entirely fresh history of Umkhonto we Sizwe MK or Spear of the Nation and its revolutionary milieu brings to life the period in which Mandela and his comrades fought South Africa s apartheid regime not only with words and protests but also with bombs and fire The South African Novel in English Kenneth Parker, 1978-06-17 The Bookman , 1896 Student Encyclopedia of African Literature Douglas Killam, Alicia L. Kerfoot, 2007-12-30 African literature is a vast subject of growing output and interest Written especially for students this book selectively surveys the topic in a clear and accessible way Included are roughly 600 alphabetically arranged entries on writers genres and major works Many entries cite works for further reading and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography Africa is a land of contrasts and of diverse cultures and traditions It is also a land of conflict and creativity The literature of the continent draws upon a fascinating body of oral traditions and lore and also reflects the political turmoil of the modern world With the increased interest in cultural diversity and the growing centrality of Africa in world politics African literature is figuring more and more prominently in the curriculum This book helps students learn about the African literary achievement Written expressly for students this book is far more accessible than other reference works on the subject Included are nearly 600 alphabetically arranged entries on authors such as Chinua Achebe Athol Fugard Buchi Emecheta Nadine Gordimer and Wole Soyinka major works such as Things Fall Apart and Petals of Blood and individual genres such as the novel drama and poetry Many entries cite works for further reading and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography Riots in Literature David Bell, Gerald Porter, 2009-05-27 Riots in Literature addresses representations of crowd disorder as manifestations of popular politics including colonial and postcolonial contexts The terms used to describe disorder are themselves of course contested Words like mob demonstration and protest not to mention riot itself denote a particular perspective based on an elitist taxonomy for dealing with social and cultural phenomena in society Of primary concern is the way in which the text describes and designates crowd behaviour using the language of denigration metaphors of the primitive and animalistic brutal images and silences and where the mediation of the event is expressed in terms of the binary order disorder The contributors to this volume are interested in the analysis of the interaction of official political culture and crowd politics as represented in literature and orature and how such representations contribute to the discourses of authority and subversion of their period The essays are wide ranging and explore the phenomenon of riots in literature through studies of popular risings in Shakespeare Carlyle and the French Revolution the Rebecca Riots in Wales popular ballads and the Indian War of Independence in 1857 post partition riots in India and Pakistan in the 1960s township violence in South African fiction post 1948 the 1965 Watts riots in Los Angeles in detective fiction and avant garde disturbances in France of the 1920s and 1930s Throughout the book these essays focus attention on the tension filled relationship that is perceived between literature and discourses of power and popular resistance
