The Cavemans Valentine:

The Caveman's Valentine George Dawes Green, 2001-01-30 Mesmerizing a stunning detective character you won't easily forget in a thriller adapted into a Samuel L. Jackson film. San Francisco Chronicle. Romulus Ledbetter wasn't always homeless. He once was a devoted husband, father, and musician with a bright future. He now forages for food in the trash cans of the city's better neighborhoods and wages a strenuous one-man war against Cornelius Gould Stuyvesant, an evil and imaginary power broker who is responsible for society's ills as well as the sinister Y and Z rays that are corrupting humankind. Then one wintry night Rom finds a corpse at the mouth of his cave that rouses his well-defined sense of ethics and launches him on an obsessive quest for answers. Forced to reconnect with society, Rom leaves his world and journeys through a spiraling web of clues and hunches straight into a sinister den of money, temptation, and murder otherwise known as the civilized world. Amplitude, great vocal agility, profound subject matter, wit, and that gruff, riskful way with language. George Dawes Green has a great feel for what the American novel should be, and he isn't intimidated by it. D. Keith Mano, New York Times Book Review. So much fun, wild and unpredictable, powerful and funny. One of those unique characters you'll not soon forget. Mr. Green has a wonderfully quirky sense of humor, a voice so new and interesting it screams for attention. Washington Times. Buy this book. It is moving, sad, hilarious. The first time author has taken big chances and gotten away with them. Calgary Herald. The Caveman's Valentine George Dawes Green, 1994-01-01 Homeless and delusional Romulus Ledbetter lives in a cave in Inwood Park until his discovery of a body and his obsessive quest for the truth force his reentry into civilized society as he attempts to solve the mystery. A first novel. 25,000 first printing. African Americans in the Visual Arts Steven Otfinoski, 2014-05-14 While social concerns have been central to the work of many African American visual artists, painters. The Post-Soul Cinema of Kasi Lemmons Dianah Wynter, 2023-02-09 In this edited volume, Kasi Lemmons, the first African American woman auteur, to solidly and steadily produce a full body of work in cinema, an oeuvre of quality of note of international recognition will get the full film studies treatment. This collection offers the first scholarly examination of Lemmons' films through various frameworks of film theory, illuminating her highly personal, unique, and rare vision. In Lemmons' worldview, the spiritual and the supernatural manifest in the natural, corporeal world. She subtly infuses her work with such images and narratives, owning her formalism, her modernist aesthetic, her cinematic preoccupations, and her ontological leanings on race. Lemmons holds the varied experiences of African American life before her lens: the ambitious bourgeoisie, the spiritually lost, the ill and discarded, and the historically erased, and commits to capturing the nuances and differentiations rather than perpetuating essentialized portrayals. This collection delves into Lemmons' iconoclastic drive and post-soul aesthetic as emanations of her attitudes toward personal agency, social agency, and social justice. Philosophy, Black Film, Film Noir, 2008 Examines how African American as well as international films deploy film noir techniques in ways that encourage philosophical reflection. Combines philosophy, film studies, and cultural studies. Provided by publisher. New York, 2001.
