Adcock (Jr.), 2003 Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory Carolyn Farquhar Ulrich, 2001 Digital Scholarship in the Tenure, Promotion and Review Process Deborah Lines Andersen, 2015-04-15 To receive tenure college and university professors have long been required to write scholarly monographs or articles engage in serious research and teach effectively In recent years however the emergence of digital scholarship has revolutionized and complicated the picture in unexpected ways as new electronic media have enabled academics to communicate scholarly material in innovative formats such as websites PowerPoint presentations CD ROMs and virtual reality tours Despite this growing output of sophisticated digital scholarship there has been little attempt to set standards define basic issues and concepts or integrate electronic scholarship into the tenure debate This collection of cutting edge articles marks the first effort to evaluate the place of digital scholarship in the tenure promotion and review process As a primer aimed at scholars faculty members and department chairs in the humanities social sciences and other fields as well as deans provosts and university administrators this collection examines the evolution of nontraditional scholarship analyzes the various formats and suggests guidelines for assessment on a scholarly level It also examines the impact of digital scholarship in the classroom and academy and explores new directions for the future This book will help shape policy in the murky world of tenure review and could become a central text for scholars and administrators everywhere

Information Ethics in the Electronic Age Tom Mendina, Johannes J. Britz, 2010-06-28 This collection of essays explores the ethical issues that arise when information technology seems to exceed and even contradict the purpose of its creators The studies focus upon the management of information technology specifically the Internet considering the most ethical ways of generating using and controlling information technology in our time Section One includes essays pertaining to Africa's place in the 21st century including democracy information flow connections with the world through the Internet telecommunications Uganda and the digital divide and an examination of a pilot study in South Africa for developing a universal tool to measure information poverty The essays of Section Two cover topical library issues such as professional information organizations and their ethic codes communicating ethics when teaching electronic research to undergraduates pay for placement search engines consumer health information services laws applying to confidentiality of library records privacy control after September 11 cybercrime investigation and the technologies protecting copyright The essays were originally presented at the Ethics of Electronic Information in the 21st Century symposium held at the University of Memphis on October 24 27 2002 Each includes references and helpful Internet resources

What are you Reading? Pavithra Narayanan, 2014-03-21 This book offers a material critique on various aspects of Indian literary production and its reception by its audiences Taking a historical and contemporary lineage into account the author variously discusses the social political and economic factors that impact upon and determine choices in the publishing world Examining the constructions of the archive of postcolonial works by Indian writers in relation to nationalist histories language wars and the relationship between economic policies and literature the book forcefully argues that why we read what we read is more than coincidental Placing the rights of minoritized and disadvantaged communities at the heart of the analysis of India s decolonization and industrial projects the book attempts to address not just inequalities in the publishing world but also social inequities engendered by global capitalism Offering a critique of academics who act as cultural gatekeepers of intellectual production the book finally underscores the disconnect between the academic theory and practice of scholars of postcolonial studies who argue against inequality and marginalization while simultaneously supporting hegemonic academic practices This book will be of interest to scholars of development studies cultural studies literature postcolonial studies economics and those studying globalization as well as the interested lay reader American Reference Books Annual Bohdan S.
