Wagons For The Santa Fe Trade:

Wagons for the Santa Fe Trade Mark Lee Gardner,2000 A profusely illustrated history that identifies wagon makers and wagon types that for a half century hauled commercial goods over the Santa Fe Trail The Wagonmasters Henry Pickering Walker,1966 The American Fur Trade of the Far West: Appendices Hiram Martin Chittenden,1902

Wagons on the Santa Fe Trail 1822 - 1880 National Park Service,2014-04-04 The first wagons to cross the plains from Missouri to New Mexico were part of William Becknell's 1822 Santa Fe trading expedition The year previous Becknell and five companions had been the first American traders to penetrate the newly independent Mexican nation The handsome profits realized on that venture were the driving force behind the considerably more ambitious second expedition which set out for Santa Fe within nine months of the first According to Becknell's now famous journal first published in the pages of the Missouri Intelligencer in 1823 his 1822 company consisted of 21 men with three waggons 1 It appears that only one of the wagons belonged to the expedition's leader however 2 This wagon it was later reported had cost 150 in Missouri and was sold by Becknell in New Mexico for 700 3 The other wagons were probably disposed of in a like manner they do not seem to have returned to Missouri What these wagons looked like their hauling capacities and where they were made and by whom all this is unknown Their importance however is unquestioned They proved that merchandise laden wagons could navigate the 800 plus miles between Franklin Missouri and Santa Fe a remarkable feat that did not go unnoticed No wagons were reported on the Santa Fe Trail in 1823 but the 1824 caravan contained an amazing assemblage of vehicles Meredith Miles Marmaduke a member of this company recorded in his diary on May 24 that they traveled with 2 road waggons 20 dearborns 2 carts and one small piece of cannon 4 Augustus Storrs another member of the expedition wrote some months later that there had been twenty three four wheeled vehicles one of which was a common road wagon 5 Although Marmaduke and Storrs do not agree on the number of vehicles in the caravan it is important to note their use of the term road wagon According to transportation historian Don Berkebile in his Carriage Terminology An Historical Dictionary the term has two definitions One describes a vehicle also known as a buggy The term was also loosely applied Berkebile tells us to larger WAGONS that were employed in the movement of materials or merchandise over the roads 6 The second definition is probably the one intended by Marmaduke and Storrs Santa Fe trader and historian Josiah Gregg uses road wagon in his Commerce of the Prairies 1844 to denote freight wagons 7 Although the term leaves us to speculate on the appearance of these vehicles it is possible that the road wagons in the 1824 caravan were the first actual freight wagons to travel the Santa Fe Trail 8 Hunt's Merchants' Magazine and Commercial Review ,1844 Chronicles of Oklahoma ,1921 The Merchants' Magazine and Commercial Review ,1844 Adventures in the Santa Fä Trade, 1844-1847 James Josiah Webb,1995-01-01 James Josiah Webb left Independence Missouri in the summer of 1844 and headed down the Santa Fe Trail with goods bought in St Louis Although his first venture as a trader was a failure he eventually made a fortune as a merchant in Santa Fe Webb recorded his youthful experiences in 1888 and Ralph P Bieber a respected scholar and researcher on western expansion edited and annotated his journal for publication more than forty years later Long out of print Adventures in the Santa Fe Trade is an entertaining and important source of first hand information about the Santa Fe Trail and trade trappers Mexicans and Indian tribes of the Old Southwest and the impact of the Mexican War on southwestern trade
