Wild Landscape Of Australia:

Wild Landscape of Australia Joe Ryan, 2002 The Wild Landscape of Australia Joe Ryan, 1984 Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature Helen Frank, 2014-04-08 Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature offers a detailed and innovative model of analysis for examining the complexities of translating children's literature and sheds light on the interpretive choices at work in moving texts from one culture to another The core of the study addresses the issue of how images of a nation locale or country are constructed in translated children's literature with the translation of Australian children's fiction into French serving as a case study Issues examined include the selection of books for translation the relationship between children's books and the national and international publishing industry the packaging of translations and the importance of titles blurbs and covers the linguistic and stylistic features specific to translating for children intertextual references the function of the translation in the target culture didactic and pedagogical aims euphemistic language and explicitation and literariness in translated texts The findings of the case study suggest that the most common constructs of Australia in French translations reveal a preponderance of traditional Eurocentric signifiers that identify Australia with the outback the antipodes the exotic the wild the unknown the void the end of the world the young and innocent nation and the Far West Contemporary signifiers that construct Australia as urban multicultural Aboriginal worldly and inharmonious are seriously under represented The study also shows that French translations are conventional conservative and didactic showing preference for an exotic rather than local specificity with systematic manipulation of Australian referents betraying a perception of Australia as antipodean rural exoticism The significance of the study lies in underscoring the manner in which a given culture is constructed in another cultural milieu especially through translated children's literature

Nature, Temporality and Environmental Management Lesley Head, Katarina Saltzman, Gunhild Setten, Marie Stenseke, 2016-08-05 How are different concepts of nature and time embedded into human practices of landscape and environmental management And how can temporalities that entwine past present and future help us deal with challenges on the ground In a time of uncertainty and climate change how much can we hold onto ideals of nature rooted in a pristine and stable past The Scandinavian and Australian perspectives in this book throw fresh light on these questions and explore new possibilities and challenges in uncertain and changing landscapes of the future This book presents examples from farmers gardens and Indigenous communities among others and shows that many people and communities are already actively engaging with environmental change and uncertainty The book is structured around four themes environmental futures mobile natures indigenous and colonial legacies heritage and management Part I includes important contributions towards contemporary environmental management debates yet the chapters in this section also show how the legacy of older landscapes forms part of the active production of future ones Part II examines the challenges of living with mobile natures as it is acknowledged that environments natures and people do not stand still An important dimension of the heritage and contemporary politics of Australia Sweden and Norway is the presence of indigenous peoples As is clear in part III the legacies of the colonial past both haunt and energise contemporary land management decisions Finally part IV demonstrates how the history and heritage of landscapes including human activities in those landscapes are entwined with contemporary environmental management The rich empirical content of the chapters exposes the diversity of meanings practices and ways of being in nature that can be derived from cultural environmental research in different disciplines The everyday engagements between people nature and temporalities provide important creative resources with which to meet future challenges

Landscape Architecture Australia ,2006 Zoos and Animal Rights Stephen St C. Bostock,2003-09-02 First Published in 2004 Zoos and animal rights would appear to be in conflict yet Stephen Bostock argues that this need not and should not be so Examining the diverse ethical and technical issues involved including human cruelty human domination over animals outside their natural habitat and the nature of wild and domestic animals Bostock analyzes areas in which misconceptions abound A timely and controversial book it explores the long history of zoos as well as current philosophical debates to argue for a controversial view of their role in the modern world Anyone concerned with humanity s relationship with other animals and the natural world should find this a thought provoking book

The Wild Landscapes of Australia ,1988 Designing Landscape Architectural Education Rosalea Monacella,Bridget Keane,2022-09-09 No single project or endeavour is immune to the issues that the climate crisis brings The climate crisis encompasses a broad register of symptoms increased global temperatures and sea level rise droughts and extreme bushfire events salinification and desertification of fertile land and the list goes on It reveals and amplifies complex causal relationships that are inherently present and traverse scales sectors and communities divulging a range of impacts and inequalities This publication asks designers and academic practitioners to describe their own work through an ecological lens and then to articulate design approaches for developing new practices in landscape architecture teaching Designing Landscape Architectural Education Studio Ecologies for Unpredictable Futures the Landscape Architecture Design Studio Companion serves as a resource for academic practitioners in the preparation and delivery of design research studios and students seeking guidance for design methodologies as a part of their landscape architectural education It draws on the manifold issues of the climate crisis as a set of drivers to examine the utilisation of a range of innovative design approaches to address the current and future priorities of the discipline The landscape architecture discipline is evolving rapidly to respond to both a broadening and intensification of changes in the environmental social and political conditions These changing conditions require innovation that extend the core competencies of landscape architects This book addresses two fundamental questions what are the design competencies required of landscape architects to equip them to deal with the complexities brought forth by contemporary society and as a result how could we design the future design studio
