Death at SeaWorld David Kirby, 2012-07-17 From the New York Times bestselling author of Evidence of Harm and Animal Factory a groundbreaking scientific thriller that exposes the dark side of SeaWorld America's most beloved marine mammal park Death at SeaWorld centers on the battle with the multimillion dollar marine park industry over the controversial and even lethal ramifications of keeping killer whales in captivity Following the story of marine biologist and animal advocate at the Humane Society of the US Naomi Rose Kirby tells the gripping story of the two decade fight against PR savvy SeaWorld which came to a head with the tragic death of trainer Dawn Brancheau in 2010 Kirby puts that horrific animal on human attack in context Brancheau's death was the most publicized among several brutal attacks that have occurred at Sea World and other marine mammal theme parks Death at SeaWorld introduces real people taking part in this debate from former trainers turned animal rights activists to the men and women that champion SeaWorld and the captivity of whales In section two the orcas act out And as the story progresses and orca attacks on trainers become increasingly violent the warnings of Naomi Rose and other scientists fall on deaf ears only to be realized with the death of Dawn Brancheau Finally he covers the media backlash the eyewitnesses who come forward to challenge SeaWorld's glossy image and the groundbreaking OSHA case that challenges the very idea of keeping killer whales in captivity and may spell the end of having trainers in the water with the ocean's top predators

Methuselah's Zoo Steven N. Austad, 2023-08-15 Stories of long lived animal species from thousand year old tubeworms to 400 year old sharks and what they might teach us about human health and longevity Opossums in the wild don't make it to the age of three our pet cats can live for a decade and a half cicadas live for seventeen years spending most of them underground Whales however can live for two centuries and tubeworms for several millennia Meanwhile human life expectancy tops out around the mid eighties with some outliers living past 100 or even 110 Is there anything humans can learn from the exceptional longevity of some animals in the wild In Methuselah's Zoo Steven Austad tells the stories of some extraordinary animals considering why for example animal species that fly live longer than earthbound species and why animals found in the ocean live longest of all Austad the leading authority on longevity in animals argues that the best way we will learn from these long lived animals is by studying them in the wild Accordingly he proceeds habitat by habitat examining animals that spend most of their lives in the air comparing insects birds and bats animals that live on and under the ground from mole rats to elephants and animals that live in the sea including quahogs carp and dolphins Humans have dramatically increased their lifespan with only a limited increase in healthspan we're more and more prone to diseases as we grow older By contrast these species have successfully avoided both environmental hazards and the depredations of aging Can we be more like them
