Six Symphonies Antonio Brioschi, 1998-01-01 The introduction includes notes on the composer the music of this edition and on performance Plates p xv xvi reproduce the top one page of music from handwritten score dated 1734 of the Symphony in E flat major Music found on p 1 53 Music followed by a Critical report p 55 59 detailing sources editorial method critical notes and commentary The Symphonic Repertoire, Volume I Mary Sue Morrow, 2024-03-29 Central to the repertoire of Western art music since the 18th century the symphony has come to be regarded as one of the ultimate compositional challenges In his five volume series The Symphonic Repertoire the late A Peter Brown explores the symphony from its 18th century beginnings to the end of the 20th century In Volume 1 The Eighteenth Century Symphony 22 of Brown's former students and colleagues collaborate to complete the work that he began on this critical period of development in symphonic history The work follows Brown's outline is organized by country and focuses on major composers It includes a four chapter overview and concludes with a reframing of the symphonic narrative Contributors address issues of historiography the status of research and questions of attribution and stylistic traits and provide background material on the musical context of composition and early performances The volume features a CD of recordings from the Bloomington Early Music Festival Orchestra highlighting the largely unavailable repertoire discussed in the book Symphonies Alice Mary Smith, 2003-01-01 xii 349 pp The Symphonic Repertoire, Volume IV A. Peter Brown, 2024-03-29 Central to the repertoire of Western art music since the 18th century the symphony has come to be regarded as one of the ultimate compositional challenges Surprisingly heretofore there has been no truly extensive broad based treatment of the genre and the best of the existing studies are now several decades old In this five volume series A Peter Brown explores the symphony from its 18th century beginnings to the end of the 20th century Synthesizing the enormous scholarly literature Brown presents up to date overviews of the status of research discusses any important former or remaining problems of attribution illuminates the style of specific works and their contexts and samples early writings on their reception The Symphonic Repertoire provides an unmatched compendium of knowledge for the student teacher performer and sophisticated amateur The series is being launched with two volumes on the Viennese symphony Volume IV The Second Golden Age of the Viennese Symphony Brahms Bruckner Dvorak Mahler and Selected Contemporaries Although during the mid 19th century the geographic center of the symphony in the Germanic territories moved west and north from Vienna to Leipzig during the last third of the century it returned to the old Austrian lands with the works of Brahms Bruckner Dvorak and Mahler After nearly a half century in hibernation the sleeping Viennese giant awoke to what some viewed as a reincarnation of Beethoven with the first hearing of Brahms's Symphony No 1 which was premiered at Vienna in December 1876 Even though Bruckner had composed some gigantic symphonies prior to Brahms's first contribution their full impact was not felt until the composer's complete texts became available after World War II Although Dvorak was often viewed as a nationalist composer in his symphonic writing his primary influences were Beethoven

Schubert and Brahms For both Bruckner and Mahler the symphony constituted the heart of their output for Brahms and Dvorak it occupied a less central place Yet for all of them the key figure of the past remained Beethoven The symphonies of these four composers together with the works of Goldmark Zemlinsky Schoenberg Berg Smetana Fibich Jan cek and others are treated in Volume IV The Second Golden Age of the Viennese Symphony covering the period from roughly 1860 to 1930

Programme Boston Symphony Orchestra,1923    The Gramophone ,1926    The Australian Symphony from Federation to 1960 Rhoderick McNeill,2016-03-23 The symphony retained its primacy as the most prestigious large scale orchestral form throughout the first half of the twentieth century particularly in Britain Russia and the United States Likewise Australian composers produced a steady stream of symphonies throughout the period from Federation 1901 through to the end of the 1950s Stylistically these works ranged from essays in late nineteenth century romanticism twentieth century nationalism neo classicism and near atonality Australian symphonies were most prolific during the 1950s with 36 local entries in the 1951 Commonwealth Jubilee Symphony competition This extensive repertoire was overshadowed by the emergence of a new generation of composers and critics during the 1960s who tended to regard older Australian music as old fashioned and derivative The Australian Symphony from Federation to 1960 is the first study of this neglected genre and has four aims firstly to show the development of symphonic composition in Australia from Federation to 1960 secondly to highlight the achievement of the main composers who wrote symphonies thirdly to advocate the restoration and revival of this repertory and lastly to take a step towards a recasting of the narrative of Australian concert music from Federation to the present In particular symphonies by Marshall Hall Hart Bainton Hughes Le Gallienne and Morgan emerge as works of particular note    Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians George Grove,1908    The Musical Times & Singing-class Circular ,1912    The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art ,1866    The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science, Art, and Finance ,1928    Masters of the Symphony Percy Goetschius,1929    The Listener's Guide to Music Percy Alfred Scholes,1919    The Listener's Guide to Music Percy A.
