Typography Now 2 Implosion:

Typography Now Two Rick Poyner, 1996 An all new showcase of the energetic work that's driving typography today from the most extreme garage fonts to the new digital typefaces

Typography Now Two Edward Booth-Clibborn, 2000-09 This follow up to Typography Now The Next Wave updates the story of typography focusing on the most innovative designers and projects in print advertising and the moving image

Typographica Rick Poyner, 2002 The magazine Typographica brainchild of Herbert Spencer had a brief life a total of 32 issues published between 1949 and 1967 But its influence stretched far beyond its modest print runs Rick Poyner recreates the excitement of Typographica in this carefully researched and beautifully illustrated book

Production for Graphic Designers Alan Pipes, 2005 Computer technology has completely revolutionized the work of graphic designers printers and print production professionals To keep pace with these far reaching changes Production for Graphic Designers is set firmly in the digital age This revised fourth edition embraces all the new and emerging technologies in graphics and print production comprehensively explaining the prepress and printing processes from traditional letterpress to the latest on press CtP computer to plate digital offset and on demand colour printing It also covers new workflows and spells out the many acronyms encountered by today's designers As well as covering print it provides an authoritative guide to working in digital media particularly the internet There are also additional feature spreads on key graphic designers Bruce Mau Paul Rand Chris Ware and Pentagram

Metro Letters University of Minnesota. Design Institute, 2003 The development of the first city specific typeface Can a typeface communicate the unique character of a city This is the question the University of Minnesota Design Institute proposed when it began the project Typeface Twin Cities and commissioned six teams of talented typographers to create a custom font for Minneapolis and St Paul Typeface Twin Cities was an experiment to further understand the relationship between typography and urban identity that sought not to brand the cities themselves but to engage the public's awareness and appreciation of design and typography throughout the metro area What began as an attempt to discover a subtle form of civic identity evolved into the invention of a truly unique concept The Twin font is accompanied by a software program that can link the typeface via the Internet with live databases detailing the Twin Cities's urban conditions wind temperature traffic congestion and these variations visibly affect the type's appearance Metro Letters recounts the complete process behind the development of a font that aims to visually represent the diversity of the Twin Cities and inspires other designers to devise their own new ideas innovative prototypes and creative experiments Distributed for the University of Minnesota Design Institute
