Advancing the U.S. Air Force's Force-development Initiative S. Craig Moore, Marygail K. Brauner, 2007. The Air Force's force development initiative evolved from research that the RAND Corporation began in the late 1990s aiming to improve the development of Air Force senior leaders. This monograph summarizes force development's history, recommends ways to advance the initiative, and suggests areas that need senior leaders' attention and decision making. In it, they respond to discussions during 2005 with Maj Gen Tony Przbyslawski, Commander of the Air Force Personnel Center. In current force development parlance, they concentrate on the development of occupational competencies that can be managed substantially and more definitively using officer assignments, in contrast to institutional competencies, e.g., negotiating, visioning, fostering diversity, listening actively, and demonstrating ethical leadership that are less job specific and that the Air Force is working to inculcate largely through education and training. This document should be of value across the Air Force manpower and personnel community and perhaps even more to career field managers and development teams in other functional areas. It aims to help members of the Force Management and Development Council (FMDC), formerly the Force Development Council, adopt a common vision for the future of occupational force development and to promote consistent advancements within and across their functional areas.

Reflections and Remembrances U. S. Military, Department of Defense, U. S. Air Force (USAF), U. S. Government, 2017-04-15. This Air Force publication tells the stories of Army Air Force veterans in World War II. For its 1995 observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the end of World War II, the Air Force History and Museums Program sponsored a series of commemorative events. One, a National Day of Recognition for Veterans of the United States Army Air Forces (USAAF), held on August 7th in the Washington, D. C. area, was celebrated at three locations. First, at the Pentagon's center court, Secretary of the Air Force Sheila E. Widnall and Chief of Staff of the Air Force General Ronald R. Fogleman praised the veterans' numberless contributions to Allied victory in the war. The Air Force Historian, Richard P. Hallion, read a congressional resolution marking the day, and then Lieutenant Colonel Donald S. Lopez, USAF retired, spoke on behalf of all World War II airmen. A flyover by vintage USAAF aircraft capped the festivities. During the afternoon, in a symposium at the National Archives and Records Administration, eleven USAAF veterans, in separate sessions covering the conflicts in Europe and Asia, reflected on their own wartime experiences of half a century ago. They spoke with clarity and authority and in remarkable detail on such topics as military preparedness, leadership, training, racial segregation, the treatment of American prisoners of war, military technology, the Allied invasion of Japan, and the use of atomic weapons. Historians Richard G. Davis and William T. Yblood presented overviews at the respective sessions. That evening, the Daughters of the American Revolution gave a reception in honor of the symposium participants and opened Constitution Hall for an outstanding musical tribute which was performed before a packed house by the United States Air Force Band Dr Hallion joined by General Bryce Poe II president of the Air Force Historical Foundation hosted the symposium Reminiscences and remarks are faithfully preserved herein
