Thirty Five Plus Diet For Women:

Thirty-Five Plus Diet for Women Jean Spodnik, 1987-04-01 A breakthrough metabolism changing diet from The Kaiser Permanente Clinic designed especially for women over 35 enhanced with menus and recipes from Slim Gourmet author Barbara Gibbons

Dreams of a Healthy India Ritu Priya, Syeda Hameed, 2023-06-26 Dreams of a Healthy India the ninth volume in the Rethinking series is an attempt to demystify the issues of health care and health systems for the general reader and to simultaneously provoke rethinking on several critical dimensions through writings by policymakers and academics Its introductory essay and the thirteen subsequent essays lay out the scenario as well as the challenges in this regard and provide actionable solutions These are solutions for the present times that can simultaneously contribute to sustainable health care for the future Complex ideas are not made simplistic but are presented in simple language with some illustrative case studies vignettes and data that speak for themselves The book published in collaboration with the Samruddha Bharat Foundation sheds light on the complex systemic layers and processes that influence people s health in their everyday lives It argues that there has to be a reassessment of the popular image of health care as medical care alone as well as of the nineteenth and twentieth century imagination of hospitals and health centres that we still work with Systemic issues such as increasing doctor patient distrust plural health knowledge systems and health governance need to be understood with analytical rigour and dealt with in the collaborative spirit of the twenty first century Democratic health care in the present times will have to ensure the dignity of the patient the community health workers nurses and doctors something that is increasingly getting lost in the contemporary health care system This volume suggests that an indigenously developed health care system based on public community partnerships and respect for the plurality of needs experiences and knowledges can generate such health care for every Indian

The Mobile Workshop Clapperton Chakanetsa Mavhunga, 2018-06-01 How the presence of the tsetse fly turned the African forest into an open laboratory where African knowledge formed the basis of colonial tsetse control policies The tsetse fly is a pan African insect that bites an infective forest animal and ingests blood filled with invisible parasites which it carries and transmits into cattle and people as it bites them leading to n gana animal trypanosomiasis and sleeping sickness In The Mobile Workshop Clapperton Chakanetsa Mavhunga examines how the presence of the tsetse fly turned the forests of Zimbabwe and southern Africa into an open laboratory where African knowledge formed the basis of colonial tsetse control policies He traces the pestiferous work that an indefatigable mobile insect does through its movements and the work done by humans to control it Mavhunga s account restores the central role not just of African labor but of African intellect in the production of knowledge about the tsetse fly He describes how European colonizers built on and beyond this knowledge toward destructive and toxic methods including cutting down entire forests forced prophylactic resettlement massive destruction of wild animals and extensive spraying of organochlorine pesticides Throughout Mavhunga uses African terms to describe the African experience taking vernacular concepts as starting points in writing a narrative of ruzivo knowledge rather than viewing Africa through foreign keywords The tsetse fly became a site of knowledge production a mobile workshop of pestilence Cornell Rural School Leaflet ,1916 Legislative Document New York (State).
