land they choose and till it without rent should not grumble at paying this small tax to the mother country However it be I fear that troubles will come and this place being the head and focus of the party hostile to England my husband feeling himself out of accord with all his neighbors saving a few loyal gentlemen like himself is thinking much and seriously of selling our estate here and of moving away into the new countries of the West where he will be free from all the disputation and contentious talk which occupies men s time here Indeed cousin times have sadly changed since you were staying here with us five years ago Then our life was a peaceful and quiet one now there is nothing but wrangling and strife The dissenting clergy are as my husband says was the case in England before the great civil war the fomenters of this discontent There are many busybodies who pass their time in stirring up the people by violent harangues and seditious writings therefore everyone takes one side or the other and there is neither peace nor comfort in life
