Around the World in Fifty Books Rodica Grigore, 2026-01-15 Bringing together fifty essays on contemporary writers this volume may be seen as a symbolic map intended to help the reader better understand today's literature With a sometimes playful or ironic and other times insightful attitude this collection of texts follows in a way as its title suggests Jules Verne's example of travelling around the world this time symbolically not in eighty days but in fifty books perhaps more like Julio Cortázar in his Around the Day in Eighty Worlds Our intellectual journey covers a wide cultural space from Portugal France and the UK to the USA and Japan reading or re reading modern and postmodern novels short stories or memoirs with the aim of finding new meanings even within certain well known texts A thought provoking approach to world literature this book intends to offer original perspectives and a fresh glimpse on contemporary fiction taking into account literary geography and also a personal interpretation of some relevant writings published in recent decades

Imaginary Films in Literature ,2015-11-09 Since cinema is a composite language describing a movie is a complex challenge for critics and writers and greatly differs from the ancient and successful genre of the ekphrasis the literary description of a visual work of art Imaginary Films in Literature deals with a specific and significant case within this broad category the description of imaginary non existent movies a practice that is more widespread than one might expect especially in North American postmodern fiction Along with theoretical contributions the book includes the analyses of some case studies focusing on the borders between the visual and the literary intermedial practices of hybridization the limits of representation and other related notions such as memory fragmentation desire genre authorship and censorship
