Supreme Court,1985 Cases argued and determined in the Supreme Court of North Carolina Voices of Intimate Partner Homicide Donna J. King,2024-04-02 In the United States and most parts of the world law policy policing and prevention work addressing domestic and intimate partner violence is created and enacted based on a violence model Likewise it is generally believed that all victims of intimate partner homicide are victims of intimate partner violence through physical abuse prior to the incident of homicide and that this violence is reported beforehand Voices of Intimate Partner Homicide takes a critical look at these misconceived notions and sheds light on multiple non violent forms of controlling behavior that precipitate intimate partner homicide The book bases its critical examination on a content analysis of court filed Petitions for Injunction for Protection Against Domestic Violence Through these records as well as corresponding police and homicide reports the accounts of the victims and their relationships with their offenders come to life Recurring coercive control tactics are coded and analyzed across multiple accounts including intimidation isolation and humiliation to illustrate the ways in which individuals are threatened prior to homicide and the true extent of harm that happens in the absence of physical violence Considering the victim s responses as well as their interaction with law enforcement and the court system prior to their death the author challenges current legal and policy initiatives made to address and protect victims from intimate partner violence and argues that non violent controlling behaviors deserve more attention in lethality risk assessments that are utilized throughout the United States For practitioners advocates researchers and students this book provides an intimate and important account of the causes and consequences of intimate partner violence prior to homicide
