Thinking Anthropologically Elsa Rodeck, King's College London. Department of Education & Professional Studies, 2010 The thesis aims to contribute to debates in social anthropology concerning the distinctiveness of the discipline and investigates the way the notion of thinking anthropologically can be understood This is achieved through a focus on the practices of anthropologists and students in the academy in the UK Much discussion concerning the discipline's distinctiveness has examined the discipline's object of study its ethnographic research practice and writing conventions Typically less attention has been given to academic processes of disciplinary production The thesis suggests that the notion thinking anthropologically is a particular academic construct which is produced through participation in specific sets of relationships in the academy The thesis therefore questions received wisdom in the discipline concerning the central place of ethnographic research in becoming an anthropologist and also contributes to the trajectory of reflexive work the discipline has undertaken in the last thirty years Chapter 1 introduces the question of anthropology's distinctiveness I highlight key areas of anthropological practice which may contribute to this particularly the method of ethnographic fieldwork I examine the double location Strathern 1999 of anthropology in the field and academy and emphasise how anthropology's ways of knowing arise through the particular relation between these Chapter 2 uses the work of Pierre Bourdieu to continue the discussion on theory and practice and situate the research topic on the academic field of anthropology further I describe the methodology of the thesis and the methods through which I carried out the research Chapter 3 looks at early encounters of undergraduates with anthropology focusing on the practices in which students participate as they begin to negotiate thinking anthropologically      Thinking Like an Anthropologist: A Practical Introduction to Cultural Anthropology John Omohundro,2007-01-08 This exciting new text teases out the common core of the cultural anthropological way of thinking makes it explicit in a set of eleven questions and uses those questions to enhance learning Each question receives treatment in a brief chapter accompanied by several exercises and classroom demonstrations The textbook is intended to be accompanied by and applied to a reader a few ethnographies or a monograph with topical focus such as language globalization technology art or gender The eleven questions that organize the text can be applied singly and cumulatively to address the cultures presented in the ethnographies or case studies chosen by each instructor A comprehensive guide written by John Omohundro assists instructors who adopt this novel approach and suggests numerous examples of ethnographies and readers that would be effective companions for the text      Theologically Engaged Anthropology J. Derrick Lemons,2018-08-23 After years of discussion within the field of anthropology concerning how to properly engage with theology a growing number of anthropologists now want to engage with theology as a counterpart in ethnographic dialogue Theologically Engaged Anthropology focuses on the theological history of anthropology illuminating deeply held theological assumptions that humans make about the nature of reality and illustrating how these theological assumptions manifest themselves in society This volume brings together leading anthropologists and theologians to consider what theology can contribute to cultural anthropology and ethnography It provides anthropologists and theologians with a rationale and framework for using theology in anthropological research      Why the World Needs Anthropologists Dan Podjed,Carla Guerrón Montero,2025-09-10 Why does the world need anthropology and anthropologists more than ever The second edition of Why the World Needs Anthropologists brings together prominent academic practicing and applied anthropologists to answer this provocative question This new edition advocates a proactive and ethically engaged discipline that not only observes societal transformations but also contributes to solving the most pressing global issues It proposes that anthropology must be at the front and center of the solving table In an accessible and appealing style each author explores anthropology s social value and practical applications Contributors share their career paths and how they use their anthropological skills and knowledge outside academia They also provide specific suggestions to anthropologists and the public on how anthropology can offer powerful insights and solutions in complex and unpredictable times Each chapter includes a list of recommendations DOs and DON Ts from the authors With such practical resources this book is a toolkit to harness anthropology s full potential This one of a kind volume is essential reading for fledgling and established anthropologists social scientists and the general public      Doing Anthropology Simone Dennis,Andrew Dawson,2022-12-30 This textbook is written by well established anthropology professors for and with their undergraduate students It explores what anthropological thinking is what anthropological approaches are and how these are applied in real world settings It provides a thorough introduction to key methods theories and the disciplinary value of contemporary anthropology This book deliberately steps beyond the standard textbook format Undergraduate students reveal the processes by which they came to understand and apply anthropological knowledge using everyday experiences and common life events as examples while also showcasing the practical learning that student authors produced as a result of understanding and operationalising those processes This fresh take showcases what can be done with anthropological knowledge not what you can do with anthropology when you've achieved the rank of professor This book is accompanied by practical exercises and podcasts that relate to each of the chapters Podcasts extend beyond the textbook as live resources with episodes on a regular basis This is an accessible lively active text that prepares students to outbound disciplinary knowledge This unique and engaging textbook will be core reading for undergraduate anthropology students as well as a source of teaching inspiration for lecturers of undergraduate anthropology units It would also be a useful text for undergraduate students conducting ethnographic research

John C. Martin, 2004-06-23 This book consists of thirty eight linear expositions of the text of Scripture called The Sermon on the Mount Matt 5 7 Also included is a fresh translation of the text from the original language All thirty eight of these units were originally sermons preached at a local congregation in Tyler Texas It is hoped that the words of our Lord Jesus Christ will receive another look by men and women and children and that the Spirit of Christ will use this book as one little piece in the proliferation of a new Reformation to the glory of Christ and His Kingdom Rev John C Martin www cpctyler com

Creation Unveiled Daniel Salomon,2003-08     Ethnographic Thinking Jay Hasbrouck,2017-12-11 This book argues that ethnographic thinking the thought processes and patterns ethnographers develop through their practice offers companies and organizations the cultural insights they need to develop fully informed strategies Using real world examples Hasbrouck demonstrates how shifting the value of ethnography from simply identifying consumer needs to driving a more holistic understanding of a company or organization can help it benefit from a deeper understanding of the dynamic and interactive cultural contexts of its offerings In doing so he argues that such an approach can also enhance the strategic value of their work by helping them increase appreciation for openness and exploration hone interpretive skills and cultivate holistic thinking in order to broaden perspectives challenge assumptions and cross pollinate ideas between differing viewpoints Ethnographic Thinking is key reading for managers and strategists specifically wishing to tap into the potential that ethnography offers as well as those searching more broadly for new ways to innovate practice It is essential reading for students of applied ethnography and recommended for scholars too     Anthropology& Thinking Anthropologically ,2009-01-01     Anthropology Anywhere Lauren E. Miller,2024-11-26 Emphasizes how we can apply anthropological habits of mind to our daily lives with a focus on social justice     How to Think Like an Anthropologist Matthew Engelke,2018 First published in Great Britain in 2017 as Think like an anthropologist by the Penguin Group Copyright page     A manual of anthropology, or, Science of man Charles Bray,1871     Thinking Like an Anthropologist John T.
