Literary Structure, Evolution, and Value Jurij Striedter, 1989      Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture      Bakhtin in Contexts Amy Mandelker, 1995-11-22 The Russian critic M M Bakhtin has recently become a major figure in contemporary theory beyond his traditional influence in Slavic literary studies Bakhtin in Contexts explores the revolutionary impact Bakhtin s ideas have carried in contemporary discussion of language art culture and social science in recent years The contributors represent a broad range of disciplines in the humanities and social sciences epitomizing the views of Russian and American specialists in those fields Bakhtin often referred to as the human sciences The diversity of perspective and flexibility of approach make this a unique contribution to Bakhtin studies and to the ongoing dialogue between Western and Russian theorists Readings in Russian Poetics Ladislav Matejka, Krystyna Pomorska, 1978 Investigating the conceptualisation of structure and form within literature the Russian Formalists affected both the creation of art during the 1920s and 1930s and the development of literary theory as a scientific discipline Crucial to the understanding of this theoretical movement this collection of essays by and about the Russian Formalists features work by Boris M Eichenbaum The Theory of the Formal Method Viktor Shklovsky The Mystery Novel Dickens's Little Dorrit Roman Jakobson On Realism in Art Mikhail Bakhtin Discourse Typology in Prose Osip M Brik Contributions to the Study of Verse Language A new introduction by Gerald L Bruns provides a context for understanding why these works remain as important and influential now as when they were first written The Prison-House of Language Fredric Jameson, 2020-06-16 Fredric Jameson's survey of Structuralism and Russian Formalism is at the same time a critique of their basic methodology He lays bare the presuppositions of the two movements clarifying the relationship between the synchronic methods of Saussurean linguistics and the realities of time and history A Companion to Literary Theory David H. The Prague School Peter Steiner, 2014-09-10

The Prague Linguistic Circle came into being on the afternoon of October 6 1926 when five Czech and Russian linguists gathered to hear a lecture by a German colleague From this international beginning the interests of the group grew to first encompass language in all its functional heterogeneity and then finally all of culture which the Circle conceived of as a structure of sign systems Semiotics was thus the overarching discipline for the Prague School serving to organize all phenomena shared and exchanged by a cultural community In recent years increasing attention has been paid to the importance of the Prague School but writing about it has frequently been marred by misconceptions The central aim of this volume is to correct those misconceptions and to present the diversity of interests within the Prague School literary criticism linguistics theory of theater folklore and philosophy These essays by Bogatyr v Jakobson Karcevskij Muka ovsk Rieger Vodi ka and Honzl are here translated into English for the first time Some have a special historical value in illuminating critical stages of structuralist thinking others reveal the timeliness of the School s contributions for the theoretical conflicts of our day Each essay is accompanied by an informative introductory note and the whole is followed by the editor s Postscript tracing the roots of structuralist aesthetics

The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies , 1988

Structuralism/humanism James Norman Roney, 1981

Janusz S l awinski has been writing on literary theory history and methodology for the last twenty years His research has gone virtually unnoticed because from the perspective of Slavolinguistic structuralism it represents a derivative structuralism with eclectic features. Those eclectic features reveal S. L. L. awinski's belief that individual conscious activity and social interaction create scholarly and literary conventions. His scholarship grew out of a Polish emphasis on individual consciousness and the social atmosphere of the Stalinist period. The insights which S. L. L. awinski's research provides into the nature of literary scholarship allow one to reach the following conclusions: The much heralded crisis in the humanities is related to the modern penchant for technological utopia and to the attempt to develop a linguistic science of literature. The humanities will continue to exist in an eclectic form as long as human consciousness exists. The scientific study of literature actually began with the positivist use of the inductive projective method in the last century. Any science of literature which uses only the projective method relies on some form of determinism. The non-theoretical eclecticism which dominates American literary scholarship relies on public taste to control literary research. There are several methodological alternatives within the Slavic formalist structuralist tradition. S. L. L. awinski combines Roman Ingarden's phenomenology with Witold Gombrowicz's interhuman form and Jan Mukarovsky's structuralism. There is a need for intensive research into the methodological diversity and historical origins of Slavic structuralism.
