The New Life Journal

Herbert David Croly

The New Life Journal:

A New Life Journal Jane Cafarella, 2014-01-22 Full of warm witty and wise stories about parenting A New Life Journal began as a weekly column by Australian journalist Jane Cafarella about her daughter's first year and ended up a life's work. First published in The Age newspaper from 1993-1997 the column struck a chord with readers many of whom wrote in response: "Your family life so often mirrors my own. It is that which made the column so universally relevant and which led to it being picked up by Quality Time magazine from 1997 to 2002. Excerpts were also broadcast on the ABC Radio National program Life Matters over the years and further instalments were published on Jane's Older and Wiser blog. Now for the first time the columns have been collated into a single edition for a new generation of readers to enjoy. Written over more than 20 years A New Life Journal is both a parenting book and a memoir covering everything from first words and potty training to choosing schools and finally letting go. A must read for all new parents, step parents and blended families. A New Life Journal is a funny, eloquent and compassionate record of one family's parenting journey and the universal issues that face parents across generations.

New Life for Historically Black Colleges and Universities Vann R. Newkirk, 2014-01-10 In December 2008 Georgia state senator Seth Harp ignited controversy when he proposed merging two historically Black colleges with nearby predominantly white colleges to save money. Less than a year later Mississippi governor Haley Barbour sought to unite Mississippi's three predominantly Black colleges. These efforts kindled renewed interest in historically Black colleges and universities (HBCUs) across the nation and the globe. In this study HBCU officials and faculty attempt to identify the challenges that HBCUs face, explore the historic origin of HBCU management systems and identify models of success that will improve the long-term viability of the HBCU. By analyzing HBCUs within a larger framework of American higher education and the cultural context in which HBCUs operate, these essays introduce a new paradigm in the quest to ensure that HBCUs continue to play an important role in the education of Americans of all races.

New Life Courses, Social Risks and Social Policy in East Asia Raymond K. H. Chan, Jens Zinn, Lih-Rong Wang, 2015-10-30 Social policy in modern industrialised societies is increasingly challenged by new social risks. These include insecure employment resulting from ever more volatile labour markets, new family and gender relationships resulting from the growing participation of women in the labour market and the many problems resulting from very much longer human life expectancy. Whereas once social policy had to be in step with a standardised, relatively stable and predictable life course, it now has to cope with non-standardised individual preferences, life courses and families and the consequent increased risks and uncertainties. This book examines these new life courses and their impact on social policy across a range of East Asian societies. It shows how governments and social welfare institutions have been slow to respond to the new challenges. In response, we propose a life course sensitised policy as an approach to manage these risks. Overall, the book provides many new insights which will assist advance social policy in East Asia.
