

Laws of Indices

Laws of indices provide us with rules for simplifying calculations or expressions involving powers of the same base. They are:

$$a^m \times a^n = a^{m+n}$$

$$a^m \div a^n = a^{m-n}$$

$$a^0 = 1$$

$$(a^m)^n = a^{m \times n} = a^{mn}$$

$$a^{-m} = \frac{1}{a^m}$$

$$a^{\frac{m}{n}} = \sqrt[n]{a^m}$$

Using Laws:

Law and Social Solidarity in Contemporary China Han Peng,2020-12-29 This book adopts Durkheim's legal perspective to treat law as a symbol of social solidarities to examine Chinese society. The work analyzes changes in the nature of social solidarity from observing changes in laws, thus drawing together western socio-legal theory and distinctive Chinese conditions. It draws on Durkheim's theoretical framework and methodology to develop a more comprehensive understanding of the role of law using theories of others such as Habermas and by taking into account the discussion of power and the conflicts of interests in analyzing key social features during transition. The analysis of social anomie in terms of the changes of juridical rules as well as the changes in the nature of social solidarity provides an inspiring perspective to look into contemporary social problems. The book will be essential reading for researchers and academics working in the areas of socio-legal studies, legal theory, and law and society in China.

Mothers-in-Law and Daughters-in-Law Deborah M. Merrill, 2007-09-30 We all know have perhaps told a few stories about mothers-in-law and daughters-in-law. It seems the stories are nearly always about relationships filled with conflict and abrasive words or actions. But why is this relationship so difficult? And is it always as bad as popular belief would have us think? Deborah Merrill, a woman's advocate and Sociology professor at one of our nation's top universities, has been studying the relationship for nearly a decade, and in this book explains where the difficulty is rooted, how friendly pairs have made it past problems that surface between a man's mother and his wife, and how they became friends. Dozens of interviews with pairs of women made in laws by marriage illustrate Merrill's points from harmful ideas and actions to helpful approaches. At its core, this book holds that marriage requires the creation of a new and separate family, which requires changes in roles as well as a redefinition of relationships. Hence, family boundaries need to be made permeable to allow for integration of the daughter-in-law and to allow the son to create his own separate and autonomous family. Family members need to be aware of and prepare for this, says Merrill. That, of course, may be easier said than done. But dozens of women who have become friends with their in-laws, some so much so that they drop the in-law and just call each other mother and daughter, explain how they got past the old popular notions and social structure to create goodwill and grow stronger families.
