Tutorial, Recent Advances in Distributed Data Base Management C. Mohan,1984 High Performance Transaction Systems Dieter Gawlick,Mark Haynie,1989-04-26 This Lecture Notes volume is based on the International Workshop on High Performance Transaction Systems held in the Asilomar Conference Center September 28 30 1987 Many of the problems identified during the workshop are liable to determine the future development of transaction systems and distributed high performance systems in general for many years to come So the organizers of HPTS 87 felt encouraged to collect the papers presented at the workshop in order to make them accessible to a wider audience of interested developers and researchers Since some of the contributions represented work in progress the authors agreed to prepare revised and updated versions of their papers for this publication This accounts for the long delay between the event itself and the publication but on the other hand it provides the reader with a state of the art account of transaction processing topics The book is organized according to the major sections of the workshop In the network section the reader finds an analysis of two of the major paradigms in networking ISO OSI and SNA from the perspective of transaction processing In the next section four different transaction processing and database systems are described Model 204 a database management system marketed by Computer Corporation of America Tandem s NonStop SQL Citicorp s transaction processing system and ALCS which basically is a version of TPF running under MVS XA The section on architectural issues contains four very different contributions which are fairly representative of the type of problems in transaction systems investigated in the research community Finally performance evaluations and system comparisons are presented Distributed Systems: Distributed data base systems Wesley W. Chu,1986 Database Systems Peter Rob,Carlos Coronel,1993 A textbook that blends theory and practice for students of database design Part 1 offers six detailed chapters on database design concepts Part 2 presents a detailed real world design case in which the concepts of Part 1 are applied In addition to database administration Part 3 covers three other advanced current database topics transaction management distributed databases and object orientation including discussion of the object orientation and the extended relational database Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

Database Design Fundamentals Naphtali Rishe,1988 New Directions for Database Systems Gad Ariav,James Clifford,1986 This volume is intended for researchers practitioners and members of the business community interested in the shape of data management in the years to come The volume is both retrospective and future oriented and the chapters recapitulate current 1980s database research and applications The 7th International Conference on Distributed Computing Systems, Berlin, West Germany, September 21-25, 1987 R. Popescu-Zeletin,Gérard Le Lann,Kane H. Kim,1987

Advances in Cartography J. C. Müller,Jean-Claude Muller,1991 This volume provides an overview of existing and future research in cartography and Geographic Information Systems GIS Although the focus is clearly on cartographic issues those are often related to GIS issues also such as the storage management and analysis of spatial data or the role of institutions in promoting or defeating new technological practices It summarizes the joint effort of a group of international experts dealing with issues regarding the design management exploitation representation and communication of spatial information Each chapter provides a practitioner s summary which states the achievements to this date and a projective summary which gives an outline of research in the field of cartography and GIS required in the future There are eleven chapters covering three main areas 1 Design and development of geographic information 2 Exploitation including management and standards and 3 Applications including navigation representation and communication The book should be of interest to anyone involved in the production or usage of spatial information and may help to identify research priorities in Research and Development organizations relating to cartography and GIS   Database Systems Philip J.
